Else He Would Be Injured by Mrs. Martin Because She So Threatened Him--Still on With Cross-Examination.

The defense in the case of Mrs Isabella J Martin charged with dynamiting the home of Superior Judge Ogden this morning sprang one of its surprises when it attempted to force Baby John the chief witness, to admit that he was a moral degenerate, and that a certain Dr Fitt in New York had told him that it would be necessary to perform a surgical operation in order to restore him to normal apacity

Attorneys Frick and Wman for Mrs Martin made it plain that this will be one of the bitterest evidence tending to show that John is an incorrigible and that he was only committed all sort of crimes without any sense of responsibility Assistant District Attorney Hynes combated some of the testimony but under the ruling of Judge Wells Frick was able to bring out all of the evidence he desired in that direction

According to the testimony Baby John was taken before a distinguished specialist in New York and there admitted that he had a hard struggle to overcome his evil tendencies that he was cruel and took a delight in torturing animals These admissions on the other hand were qualified by the witness by stating that before he went to the office of the specialist he had promised Mrs Martin to answer Yes to each question put to him Mrs Martin promised to beat him if he did not It was this fact he said, that made him admit that he was more than ordinarily degenerate

ROOSEVELT SCORES BRYAN AND GOMPERS IN AN OPEN LETTER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Campaign literature was enriched yesterday by a letter from President Roosevelt addressed to United States Senator Philander C. Knox of Pennsylvania, in which Mr. Roosevelt pays his respects to Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

Speaking at Philadelphia on Tuesday, Senator Knox took issue with Gompers on the question of the attitude of organized labor in the present campaign, and the President's letter of today is in support of Knox's views. The letter follows:

My Dear Senator Knox: In your admirable speech of yesterday you speak of the action of Mr. Bryan and certain gentlemen claiming to be the special representatives of organized labor, foremost among them Mr. Gompers, to secure the support of laboring men for Mr. Bryan on consideration of his agreement to perform certain acts nominally in the interest of organized labor, which would be really either wholly ineffective or else of widespread injury not only to organized labor, but to all decent citizens throughout the country. You have a peculiar right to speak on the labor questions, for it was you who, as attorney general, first actively invoked the great power of the federal government on behalf of the rights of labor when for the first time in the history of the government a man, speaking for the department of justice, intervened in a private lawsuit which had gone against a locomotive fireman who had lost an arm in coupling cars, and by your intervention secured from the Supreme Court a construction of the safety appliance act which made it a vital remedial statute, and therefore has secured to hundreds of crippled employes and widows of crippled employes compensations which they would not have otherwise obtained.

The daily papers of October 13 contain an open letter from Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, appealing to workingmen to vote for Mr. Bryan.

In that letter are certain definite statements which interest the American public quite as much as those to whom Mr. Gompers makes his appeal. Those statements warrant all you have said in your speech, and they would warrant you in asking Mr. Bryan to say publicly whether Mr. Gompers states correctly the attitude of his party and himself on a subject that is of vital concern to every citizen, including every business man, as well as every farmer and every laborer who looks to the courts for the protection of his rights.

Mr. Gompers in his letter asserts that the judiciary of this country is destroying democratic government and substituting therefor an irresponsible and corrupt despotism in the interest of corporate power, and he further makes clear that the means by which he believes this alleged despotism has been set up in the place of Democracy is by the process of injunction in the courts of equity.

AVERS DEMOCRATS PROMISED REMEDY.

Mr. Gompers in his letter states that his appeal to the Republican convention at Chicago for remedy against the injunction was denied and he then goes on to state not only that the Democratic party promised a remedy, but promised him the particular remedy that he had already asked of Congress. His words are: "Labor's representatives then went to the Democratic party. That party made labor's contention its own. It pledged its candidates for every office to those remedies which labor had already submitted to Congress."

The last sentence in this quotation indicates very definitely the specific remedies to which Mr. Gompers understands Mr. Bryan's party has pledged itself.

His statement now makes perfectly clear an important plank in the Bryanite platform which has heretofore seemed puzzling to a vast number of earnest-minded thinking people, who are sincerely interested in the steady advance, the legitimate aspirations of labor and who carefully read both platforms to know precisely what hopes each held out for the improvement of the conditions of wage earners.

The plank reads as follows:

"Questions of judicial practice have arisen, especially in connection with industrial disputes. We deem that the parties to all judicial proceedings should be treated with rigid impartiality and that injunctions should not be issued in any cases in which injunctions would not issue if no industrial dispute were involved."

This is the plank that promises the "remedy" against injunctions which Mr. Gompers asked of Mr. Bryan's party. In actual fact, it means absolutely nothing; no change of the law could be based on it; no man without inside knowledge could foretell what its meaning would turn out to be, for no man could foretell how any judge would decide in any given case, as the plank apparently leaves each judge free to say, when he frames an injunction in a labor case, whether or not it is a case in which an injunction would be issued if labor were not involved. Yet this plank is apparently perfectly clear to Mr. Gompers, and in his letter to his followers he indicates beyond question just what he understands it to mean. He asserts that he has the requisite inside knowledge. His statement that Mr. Bryan's party (for it was Mr. Bryan who dictated the platform) pledged itself "to those remedies which labor had already submitted to Congress" is a perfectly clear and definite statement.

GOMPERS' "REMEDY" EASILY IDENTIFIED

The "remedy" which Mr. Gompers has already submitted to Congress is a matter of record and the identification of his "remedy" against injunctions in labor disputes is easy and certain. This "remedy"—is embodied in house bill No. 21 of the first session of the sixtieth Congress, the complete text of which is hereto appended. The gist of the bill, as can be seen by referring to the complete text, is this:

First, after forbidding any federal judge to issue a restraining order for an injunction in any labor dispute except to prevent irreparable injury to property or property rights, it specifically provides that "no right . . . to carry on business of any particular kind, or at any particular place, or at all, shall be construed, held, considered or treated as property or as constituting a property right."

Second, it provides that nothing agreed upon or done by two or more parties in connection with a labor dispute shall constitute a conspiracy or other criminal offense, or be prosecuted as such, unless the thing agreed upon would be unlawful if done by a single individual.

The bill here described is not only the "remedy" that Mr. Gompers has already submitted to Congress, but it is the one and only "remedy" which he and those associated with him in this present movement have announced that they will accept in the matter of this grievance against the courts on the injunction issue.

The counsel for the American Federation of Labor and Mr. Gompers, its president, are on record to this effect.

At a hearing before the house committee on judiciary the counsel of the American Federation of Labor, on February 5, 1908 (as appears from the printed hearings), stated:

"The bill was considered by at least two sessions of the executive counsel of that organization and unanimously approved. It was considered by two of its national conventions—the two latest—and by these unanimously indorsed. And in the face of the many propositions to amend it, in the face of many proposed substitutes, in the face of pressure from every direction, from high sources and sources not so exalted, the organization has stood by, and is today standing by, this bill without amendment."

Mr. Gompers, himself, introducing this bill before the same committee on February 26, 1908 (as appears from the printed hearings), went on record as follows:

INSISTED ON BILL IN ORIGINAL FORM.

"Events have demonstrated clearly to my mind that there is only one bill before the committee that can at all be effective to deal with this abuse, with this invasion of human rights, and that is the Pearre bill."

Further on in the same page of the hearings, Mr. Gompers states:

"I will say this, that I think I will try to make my position clear that the American federation of Labor has so declared (as if that it must insist upon the principles involved in the Pearre bill and that I explained as best I could the position of labor—that we would rather be compelled to bear the wrongs which we have for a longer period than to give our assent to the establishment of a wrong principle, believing and knowing that time would give the justice and relief to which labor—the working people—are entitled."

This bill then, and none other, represents exactly the relief that Gompers demands in the way of anti-injunction legislation, and if the statement in his letter is correct, this bill represents what Bryan and his party are pledged to in the matter of anti-injunction legislation. This injunction plank in the Bryanite platform may sound vague and hazy, but there is nothing vague or hazy about this bill.

It is more than a bill; it is a program of the most fixed and definite kind; and if Mr. Gompers is correct this bill becomes, as it were, an appendix to Mr. Bryan's platform or a footnote explaining in detail the briefer and vaguer injunction plank in that platform.

Does Mr. Bryan accept it as such?

Mr. Bryan should state publicly whether he in fact accepts the principle of this bill, which is the official program of Mr. Gompers and those who stand with him.

Mr. Gompers announces publicly that Mr. Bryan's party has made this program its own. Is Mr. Gompers correct in this statement?

Either Mr. Gompers is mistaken as to what Mr. Bryan's party has promised in the matter of further injunction legislation, or those who drafted his party platform in their haste failed to make his promise so clear that the general public would understand it precisely as Mr. Gompers understands it.

LABOR PLANK WAS AVOIDED BY BRYAN.

Mr. Bryan failed in his letter of acceptance to discuss this labor plank of his party's platform. So far as I am aware he has failed to discuss it since.

There should be such discussion as a matter of common fairness, not only to labor, but to all citizens alike. On a question of such grave consequences people are entitled to know where Mr. Bryan stands.

Mr. Taft has repeatedly explained where he stands in this matter of regulating injunctions.

Are we not entitled to know with equal clearness exactly where Mr. Bryan stands?

Mr. Gompers' public statements as to what his party promised, make it imperative that Mr. Bryan declare himself.

This bill, to the principle of which he says Mr. Bryan is pledged, declares that the right to carry on a business in a lawful way shall be not regarded as a property right or entitled to the protection of a court of equity through the process of an injunction and that the right to such protection, which admittedly now exists under the law, shall be taken away.

The counsel for the American Federation of Labor, in his examination before the House on February 5, at which Mr. Gompers himself was present, gave a very frank illustration of what he and Mr. Gompers believed to be the consequence of that provision of that bill which says the right to carry on business shall not be entitled to protection as a property right.

His words are:

"Suppose that working men by some operation of proceedings in the community (let us say by violence or persuasion or picketing away from the premises), reduce those works to a state of utter helplessness, and there was not a wheel moving, nor a process in operation, and this company having no help at all—that would be an interference with his right to do business; and for that they he has no right to be protected by injunction."

Is Mr. Bryan in reality pledged to this point of view? Will he definitely say, either in writing or in a public address, whether he believes with Mr. Gompers that the protection heretofore afforded by the courts of equity to the right to carry on a lawful business in a lawful way is despotic power, and that the judges who exercise that power are irresponsible despots?

BILL WOULD MAKE BLACKLISTS LEGAL.

So far as the second section of the bill is concerned it is perfectly clear that it would legalize the blacklist and the sympathetic boycotts carried to any extent. It would legalize acts which time and again have been declared oppressive, unjust and immoral by the best and most eminent labor leaders themselves.

Does Mr. Bryan believe with Mr. Gompers that he and that part of the labor movement that agrees with him has the right morally and should be given the right legally to paralyze or destroy with impunity the business of an innocent third person, against whom he or they have no direct grievance, simply because this third person refuses to join with them aggressively in a labor controversy with the real merits of which he may be utterly unacquainted because he refuses to class as his enemy any and every other employer whom they point out as their enemy, because he refuses merely upon their peremptory order to excommunicate some other employer by ceasing all business relations with him?

The blacklist and the secondary boycott are two of the most cruel forms of oppression ever devised by the wit of man for the infliction of suffering on his weaker fellows.

No court could possibly exercise any more brutal unfeeling or despotic power than Mr. Gompers claims for himself and his followers in this legislation, which would permit them without let or hindrance of any kind to carry on every form and degree of the secondary boycott.

The anthracite strike commission, as fair minded and distinguished a body of men as ever passed judgment on an industrial question, thus refers to the secondary form of boycott, that is the boycott of innocent persons refusing to take an aggressive part in a controversy when they have no concern.

To say this is not to deny the legal right of any man or set of men voluntarily to withdraw from social intercourse or business relations with any persons whom he or they, with or without good reason, dislikes. This may be selfishness be unchristian, but it is not illegal. But when it is a concerted purpose of a number of persons not only to abstain themselves from such intercourse but to render the life of their victim miserable by persuading and intimidating others such purpose is a malicious one and the concerted attempt to accomplish it is a conspiracy at common law, and merits and should receive the punishment due to such a crime.

BOYCOTT CONDEMNED BY MINERS' LEADER.

The commission further states that this boycott can be carried to an extent "which was condemned by Mr. Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, in his testimony before the commission and which certainly deserves the reprobation of all thoughtful and lawabiding citizens." Does Mr. Bryan agree with Mr. Gompers that all existing legal restraints on the enforcement of every degree of the boycott should be withdrawn; that the Industrial Association of the innocent merchant who refuses to render unquestioned obedience to the orders of Mr. Gompers should be legalized and encouraged; or does he believe with us and with Mr. Mitchell and other labor leaders who differ with Mr. Gompers in this matter that this form of the boycott is morally wrong, that labor at war should fight with its enemies and respect the rights of neutrals, that innocent third parties should not be coerced into taking sides in industrial disputes to which they are in no degree parties, under penalty of having their business attacked and destroyed?

Mr. Taft is perfectly definite on this proposition.

Where does Mr. Bryan stand?

The citizen who votes for or against Mr. Taft on this proposition does so with his eyes open and with a clear understanding from Mr. Taft himself of his position. He has frankly discussed this subject time and again with workingmen prior to his nomination. He has been and is in this campaign and willing to express his position clearly and to assure workingman that he will protect them in their rights he is willing to go to the limits of what he considers justice, but that he will not go further. His definition of justice to labor does not, as we understand it, include either of the principles contained in Mr. Gompers' program as set forth officially in this appeal.

Does Mr. Bryan disagree with Mr. Taft on these propositions?

Will he state publicly, definitely, categorically whether he accepts the program outlined in this bill, as Mr. Gompers in his letters has assured the public that he does?

Mr. Bryan's party platform paid a high tribute to our courts of justice. It stated:

HIGH TRIBUTE TO COURTS OF JUSTICE.

"We resent the attempt of the Republican party to raise a false issue respecting the judiciary. It is an unjust reflection upon a great body of our citizens to assume that they lack respect for the courts."

"The great body of our citizens," to whom this platform refers, are admittedly Mr. Gompers and his followers.

Mr. Gompers, now Mr. Bryan's open and avowed ally, has in the letter quoted attacked the federal courts in an unmeasured terms of reproach because by a long line of decisions the equity courts have refused to make an outlaw of the businessman; because his right to carry on a lawful business under the peace of the law has been protected by the process of injunction; because, in a word, one of the most vital and most fundamental rights of the business world, the right of a businessman to carry on his business, has been sustained and not denied by the processes of the courts of equity. This sweeping attack of Mr. Gompers' upon the judiciary has been made in a frank and open effort to secure votes for Mr. Bryan.

Are these attacks made with Mr. Bryan's consent?

Do they meet with his approval?

Does he indorse them or does he repudiate them?

Mr. Bryan has frankly questioned Mr. Taft during the progress of this campaign and very properly so, asking him to make clear his stand on public matters on which the public is entitled to be enlightened. In turn, with equal frankness and with equal propriety, Mr. Bryan should be asked to break a long-continued silence and make definite and certain his own position in regard to the matter which concerns not only businessmen and every decent, law-abiding citizen, whether a wage worker or not, just as much as it concerns Mr. Gompers, and that part of organized labor which stands with him.

There is none of the generalities of vague expression of sympathy for labor. Let Mr. Bryan simply confine himself to the anti-injunction plank of its own platform and tell us publicly, definitely and clearly whether he accepts or rejects the statement of Mr. Gompers that this plank pledges him to the principles of the bill for which Mr. Gompers stands; and whether if elected he will endeavor to have his proposal enacted into law. This is asked honestly in the interest of that large voting public which believes sincerely in the promotion of every legitimate right and interest of labor, but which believes also that from the standpoint of the best interest of labor it neither requires nor is entitled to more than justice and that the right to destroy business should not be formally recognized in the law of the land.

WORKED TO AID CAUSE OF LABOR.

I feel that I have the right to speak frankly in this matter because throughout my term as president it has been my constant object to do everything in my power, both by administrative action and by endeavoring to secure legislative action to advance the cause of labor, protect it from unjust aggression and secure to it its legitimate results. I have accomplished something; I hope to accomplish something more before I leave office, and I have taken special and particular interest in Mr. Taft's candidacy because I believe that he is the man best qualified for continuing the work of securing to the wage workers of the country their full rights.

I will do everything in my power for the wage workers of the country except to do what is wrong. I will do wrong for no man and with all the force within my power I solemnly warn the laboring men of this country that any public man who advocates doing wrong in their interest can not be trusted by them; and this whether his promise to do wrong is given knowingly that it is wrong or because of a levity or lack of consideration which makes him willing to promise anything without counting the cost if thereby support at the moment is to be purchased.

Just as I have fought hard and shall continue to fight hard to bring about in the fullest way the recognition of the employe to be amply compensated for injury received in the course of his duty, so I have fought hard and shall continue to fight hard to do away with all abuses in the use of the power of injunction. While doing anything in my power that the power of injunction is not used to oppress laboring men, I will endeavor to secure them full and equal justice. Therefore in the interest of all good citizens, be they laboring men, business men, professional men, farmers or members of any other occupation, so long as they have in their souls the principles of sound American citizenship, I denounce as wicked the proposition to secure a law which, according to the explicit statement of Mr. Gompers, is to prevent the courts from effectively interfering with riotous violence when the object is to destroy a business, and which will legalize the blacklist and the secondary boycott, both of them the apt instruments of unmanly persecution.

DELUDED FOLLOWERS WANT VICIOUS LAW.

But there is another account against Messrs. Bryan and Gompers in this matter. Ephraim Foedth on wind. Their proposed remedy is an empty sham. They are seeking to delude their followers by the promise of a law which would damage this country solely because of the vicious, immoral purpose that would be shown by putting it upon the statute book, but which would be absolutely worthless to accomplish its avowed purpose. I have not the slightest doubt that such a law as that proposed by Mr. Bryan, if enacted by congress, would be declared unconstitutional by a unanimous Supreme court, unless, indeed, Mr. Bryan were able to pack this court with men appointed for the special purpose of declaring such a law constitutional.

I happen to know that certain great trust magnates have announced within the last few weeks, in answer to the question as to why they were openly or secretly favoring the election of Mr. Bryan, that the laws that Mr. Bryan proposed, including especially this law, would be wholly ineffective because the court would undoubtedly throw them out, and that the promises to enact them would therefore safely be disregarded.

On July 2, last, the special counsel to the Central Association of Building Trades of New York, Edward J. Gavegan submitted to that association an opinion on the matter of injunctions, an opinion which was openly indorsed and approved the same day by the Central Association of Building Trades of New York. In this opinion, in discussing proposals to do away with or modify the power of issuing injunctions in industrial disputes, Mr. Gavegan said that the proposal to forbid judges in industrial disputes above all others "would be class legislation and in the nature of special privilege, and special privilege is the bane of the workingman. Special privileges is what creates powerful special interests. What the wage worker wants, and all he wants, is equality before the law. It is playing into the hands of the special interests to enact laws which are certain of annulment by the courts, even when they are intended in good faith for the betterment of the workingman. The special interests would rather see a thousand favorable but unenforceable new laws enacted for the wage earner than to have him learn the full power of a single existing remedy. The remedies so far suggested and made public cannot in the very nature of our system furnish any needed relief. . . . Labor representatives should concentrate and use their influence for the enactment of general measures calculated to protect and not to destroy the remedy of injunction."

This is admirably sound common sense; the opinion of the counsel to a great labor body, indorsed and adopted as its own by that labor party. It is a scathing condemnation of the proposals, vicious and chimerical, to which Messrs. Bryan and Gompers are committed. They promise what would be in the highest degree detrimental to the interests of the general public if it could be performed, and what, as a matter of fact, could not be performed. I believe both in the patriotism and the intelligence of the workingmen, the laboring men of America. Therefore, I do not believe they can be misled to their own deep hurt as Messrs. Bryan and Gompers seek to mislead them; I do not believe that they will permit Mr. Gompers to deliver them like chattels to Mr. Bryan in exchange for a sham. Sincerely yours,

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

ELECTION OF TAFT IS PREDICTED IN ALL SECTIONS OF THE COUNTRY

Sweeping Victory for Republicans Forecasted by the Wise Ones

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—On the eve of his last campaign visit to Chicago, where he will remain two days, Chairman Hitchcock of the Republican National Committee expressed himself more confidently than at any time since he assumed the management of the Republican campaign. He declared yesterday that New York was absolutely safe for the national and State tickets, and added that he was confident that California, Oregon and Washington would give large Republican pluralities. He was satisfied, also, he said, with conditions in Colorado, Nebraska and Kansas, and he thought Montana was safely Republican, though he did not look for any overwhelming pluralities in that State.

SURELY REPUBLICAN.

As to Missouri, Kentucky and Maryland, he regarded the last State as surely Republican, and in the other two he thought there was a fighting chance.

Former Governor Myron T. Herrick of Ohio came to Republican National headquarters yesterday and made the following statement:

"The best evidence that Ohio will remain true to Republican faith is found in the attitude of the labor element of that State. A few days ago two polls were taken in the railroad shops at Cleveland, which resulted as follows: Taft, 1744; Bryan, 510; doubtful, 401.

STRONG TAFT TIDE.

"The Republicans of Ohio have concluded to put aside their local quarrels and vote for Taft and Sherman. The labor people particularly feel that in voting for Taft they are voting to continue McKinley's ideas, which brought them out of the depths. Senator Foraker, while not actively engaged in the campaign, is too patriotic to want to see Bryan elected. The strong tide for Taft set in from the day he began speaking in Ohio. Another thing which has strengthened the faith of the Republicans in Ohio was the appearance there of Governor Hughes."

Taft's election is forecasted by a straw vote taken by the Literary Digest, the results being published in the issue out today. The list of voters reached includes lawyers, physicians, educators, clergymen and the professional classes generally, also the bankers and the business men of the country, who are rated substantially in the commercial directories, and covers all parts of the country.

ODDS ON FAVORITE.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Betting men all over the country have made Taft the odds-on favorite in the coming presidential election. Even in the states that are supposed to be safely Democratic the wagers that have been placed on the general results have all been in favor of the Republican candidate.

Many thousands of dollars have been bet in Chicago, all favoring Taft. The first odds which were offered by James O'Leary, sportingman, were 1 to 4 on Taft. Since the first of the campaign these odds have shifted to 1 to 5 on Taft and 7 to 2 on Bryan.

The following reports were received today from some of the larger cities over the country.

$75,000 IN ST. LOUIS.

NEW YORK.—There has been little betting on the general result in New York, the betting men being most interested in the result of the race between Hughes and Chanler. The wagers have been on a basis of 4 to 1 on Taft.

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—So far as figures are available approximately $75,000 has been wagered on the result of the presidential election. On the general election the wagers show Taft to be a 2 to 1 favorite.

BALTIMORE, Md.—On the general election 3 to 1 is offered on Taft and it is difficult to get takers for any large amounts.

NEW ORLEANS.—So far only small bets have been made on a basis of $20 to $14 that Taft will win. A Taft man has $3000 to bet to $1000 that the Republican candidate on the ticket will be elected and $2000 to bet against $1000 that he will carry New York.

POSTED AT 2 TO 1.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Betting in Minneapolis favors Taft. The majority of the bets are posted at 2 to 1 for Taft.

CLEVELAND, O.—There have been no large bets posted here and practically all the wagers that have been made are on a basis of 2 to 1 on Taft.

DETROIT, Mich.—There have been only small bets posted on the general result at the poolrooms. Six to one has been offered on Taft and a number of little wagers have been placed.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—There have been a large number of small bets posted, with the odds slightly in favor of the Republican ticket.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—At the present time the odds are 2½ to 1 on Taft.

WANTS TEDDY TO USE ONLY CAMERA

It Is Hoped Roosevelt Will Not Create Too Great Havoc Among Wild Beasts.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. — That a camera instead of a rifle would be the best arm for President Roosevelt to carry on his hunting trip to Africa is the opinion of Sir Harry H. Johnston, who arrived in New York from England last night. For fifteen years Sir Harry has been connected with the diplomatic service in Africa. He states that the officials in Uganda are eagerly anticipating President Roosevelt's visit.

"But I am an enthusiast on the subject of preserving the native animals of any country," said Sir Harry, "and I hope President Roosevelt will not make too much havoc among the big game down there. If I had my say, I should present a telephoto camera, instead of a rifle, to the President and entreat him to take shots at long range with that. Everywhere we witness the destruction of birds and animals indigenous to their native soils, and I am for preserving them, rather than destroying them. Africa is no exception and big game there is being slowly exterminated."

UNFIT HOMES MAKE CRIMINALS, HE SAYS

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—As a cure for criminality in Chicago, Alderman William E. Devere last night suggested that the municipal government set aside each year a sum of money to be used in condemning houses unfit to live in, razing the structures and making breathing spots for children to play in.

"Our failure in municipal government up to this time in Chicago is due to the fact that we have neglected the human side of things," he said. "It costs the city of Chicago about $ 5,000,000 every year to handle criminals. This amount is not spent in any curing of crime. We must take up this latter idea if we want to be a happy city."

JURORS WHO SERVED IN HIS COURT ENDORSE JUDGE COOK

Resolutions Recommending the Re-Election of Incumbent Passed

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—Many of the jurors who have served in Judge Carroll Cook's department of the Superior Court held a meeting last night at the headquarters of the Carroll Cook Nonpartisan Club on Fillmore street and agreed among themselves to do all in their power toward the election of Judge Cook.

Resolutions adopted by a panel of jurors in April last which were at the time drawn up and presented to the judge were read and all present indorsed them and agreed that every juror who, during the twelve years of Judge Cook's incumbency in department 12 of the court, would, if present, say the same.

The resolutions read and referred to are as follows:

RESOLUTIONS PASSED.

"Whereas, we, the undersigned, the jurors empaneled and sworn in department No. 12 of the Superior Court, having just completed our statutory term of service; and whereas, after the completion thereof we were discharged from further jury service, and

"Whereas, during the term of our service we, individually and collectively, have been particularly impressed with the fair treatment accorded not only to the jurors, but to counsel, witnesses and litigants whose business called them before said department of the court during such term.

"Now, therefore, be it resolved, that we, terminating our service, we tender to the Hon. Carroll Cook, the judge presiding in said department, this testimonial of appreciation of his uniform fairness and impartiality.

"During the entire time of our service in department 12 of the Superior Court we have found Judge Cook ever ready to exercise mercy where mercy were deserved, and equally ready to inflict severe punishmen when merited. Jury service under him has been a pleasure rather than a burden, and we unanimously testify to his uniform fairness in the administration of justice

TAFT TAKES ONE DAY OF REST

PREPARES HIMSELF FOR LONG CAMPAIGN

Joins Cincinnati Club and Receives a Large Number of His Townspeople During the Day.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 22.—A day of absolute quiet and rest was indulged in by William H. Taft, who arrived here at 7 o'clock yesterday and will remain until the same hour tomorrow morning. Taft went at once to the residence of his brother, C. P. Taft, saying that he should see as few people as possible during the day, that his voice might be improved as much as possible.

The three days' work in Indiana will begin tomorrow and end Saturday night, when the Taft special will start at once for New York City. Although it was decided Monday and announced by Chairman Hitchcock that the candidate would not go into Connecticut, the plan is understood to have been changed to the extent of having Taft make one speech in the Nutmeg State next Monday.

Just where the effort is to be made has not yet been decided.

MADE MEMBER OF CLUB.

Judge Taft today was made a member of the Citizens' Taft Club of Cincinnati. A committee visited the Taft residence at noon and the candidate was prevailed upon to go to the headquarters and address a meeting there.

After being duly enrolled as a member and introduced to the group he said he believed that in matters of this sort it would not be immodest in him to state that he should vote with the club. Seriously speaking, he said nothing had given him so much real gratification as the movement of his friends and neighbors and fellow-townsmen. He commented on the usefulness of the organization, saying that the carrying of the political discussion to the home by persons who personally know the candidate was far more effective than having such work done by strangers.

TAKES GOOD REST.

The candidate spoke of his former residence in the city, his four years' absence in the Philippines and four years at Washington and adding with a smile he hoped it would not be necessary for him to move to the city during the next four years, although he should always maintain his home in Cincinnati.

His reception was an expression of exceeding cordiality and after he had received the members of the club and the many others present, he returned to the Taft residence to again resume the quiet of the day, which he regards as the necessary preparation to the continuous work of the campaign which is to keep him engaged until election morning.

PRESENT RESIGNATIONS.

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 22.—A stormy session of the publicity committee of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition yesterday culminated in C. R. Collins, James D. Hoge and George S. McLaren presenting their resignations to Chairman E. S. Meany. The trouble arose as a result of the resignation a few days ago of Henry E. Reed, director of exploitation.

The largest tourist travel from the East and middle West states to the coast will be the latter part of this month, according to Jay W. Adams, Pacific Coast agent of the "Nickel Plate" road. He called at the Chamber of Commerce this morning and said that an unusual number of people had made reservations and very many had purchased tickets direct to Oakland. The low rate will be called off on the last day of this month and the travel will be immense from now on.

Frazee's musical mixture, "Isle of Spice," the merriest and brightest of musical productions, will be seen at the Macdonough October 23 and 24, with the same cast and company, together with all the scenery, electrical and mechanical effects and beautiful costumes, which characterized its successful runs in Chicago, New York and Boston.

The company is a large one and the cast contains players well known in the theatrical world, among whom may be mentioned Harry B. The following are a few of the big song hits: "The Goo Goo Man," "The Broom Stick Witches," "Peggy Brady," "Uncle Sam's Marines," "You and I" and "How Can You Tell Till You Try?"

BATTERS IN WINDOW

to Oakland and rented the house on Orange street to John C. Hughes, its present tenant, who pays $40 a month rent.

While they lived in their pretty Orange-street home, Rager says, Mrs. Rager was cold to him and preferred the company of other men. She would not accompany him in public, but went to San Francisco night after night, staying out until the small hours of the next morning, avers the plaintiff. He says he became aware that she corresponded with Al Myers, who conducts a cigar store in San Francisco, and that she also received missives from George Waite of Orland.

HAD TO COOK.

Rager says his wife remained in bed mornings and compelled him to get up and prepare his own breakfast. For long periods at a time she refused to do any cooking whatsoever, he alleges, forcing him to eat down town. On one of these occasions she was visiting at Willows.

In March, 1907, Rager says he was called up to the mines in Nevada in which he was interested, and, during his absence, D. A. Brown, a cousin of Mrs. Rager, stayed at their home.

He came home rather suddenly one morning at 2 o'clock and saw lights burning in his wife's room. He attempted to get in with the keys ordinarily used, but discovered that the door was bolted from the inside and heard a man's voice speaking in great excitement, he says.

SMASHED WINDOW.

Plead as he would, he says, Mrs. Rager would not open the door, so he climbed to the roof of the front porch to get a view of the interior of the room. He finally smashed in one of the large front windows and, as he did so, he declares, he heard his wife's visitor run through the house and out the back door, which was left unlocked. He found a man's clothes and two suit cases on the floor of his wife's bed chamber, he avers. His wife, states Rager, refused to tell him who had been there, causing him to institute a search for the destroyer of his home.

While he was searching the back yard, he states, Mrs. Rager threw the visitor's clothes out the front window, and neighbors, attracted by the disturbance, saw the man scantily attired gather up his belongings and flee across the lawn. Mrs. Rager is said by her husband to have remained away from home for two weeks after this affair and refused to divulge the name of the co-respondent.

HE PAID THE BILLS.

Her mother came down from Orland on a visit after this racket, Rager recites, and all the time Mrs. Brown was there Mrs. Rager was solemn and had little or nothing to say to her husband, but went out nights to dances, dinners, theaters and other places of amusement with other men. She bought fine clothes and jewelry, says Rager, and he paid the bills.

On one occasion, Mrs. Rager was entertaining a man caller, charges Rager, when another male friend dropped in unexpectedly. A lively fist fight, such as rarely occurs in the Linda Vista district, took place in the pretty home and it was no until the arrival of the police that the combatants were quieted and peace reigned again at the Rager residence.

Aside from the divorce decree, Rager wants the courts to declare his wife's property, which he says he gave her as a gift on Christmas day, 1906, community property and divided half and half.

The divorce complaint was drawn up by the law firm of Gibson & Woolner.

KING EDWARD SENDS CONGRATULATORY CABLE

NEW YORK, Oct. 22. — Congratulations by cable from King Edward added distinction to the 11-centennial of St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal Church of Richmond, Staten Island. The cablegram read:

"To the Bishop of New York:—I am commanded by the King to express his gratification for the tribute you are paying to his ancestor, Queen Anne, and the hope that the same providence that has followed St. Andrew's Church for the past 200 years may continue for the years to come."

Letters from President Roosevelt and the presiding bishop expressing regret at the inability of the writers to be present, and containing prayers for the future welfare of St. Andrew's were read.

Following an address by Bishop Greer, two tablets in honor of Queen Anne and the original twelve founders of the church were unveiled.

MAKES ASTONISHING CURES

Mi-o-na Tablets Cure Dyspepsia by Promptly Removing the Cause, or Money Back.

Mi-o-na is a scientific and effective remedy for the permanent cure of indigestion.

Food is digested in the stomach by means of a churning movement of the walls of the stomach, which thoroughly mixes the food with the gastric or stomach juices.

If the muscular walls are flabby and lack tone or energy, the stomach cannot churn the food properly, and the digestive juices are not properly mixed with the food.

This causes indigestion. The common symptoms are: Weight and fullness after meals, coated tongue, bad taste in mouth, discharges of wind from the mouth, and belching of sour material.

Dyspepsia cannot be cured by taking a digestor, such as pepsin, because pepsin simply digests your food artificially, and not all of the food either, for it has no effect at all on starchy food, such as potatoes, rice, oatmeal, bread, etc.

There is just one way to cure dyspepsia and stomach disorders, trivial or serious, and that is to tone up or put energy into the stomach walls, so that they will be able to properly mix or churn the food.

Mi-o-na tablets cure stomach troubles by putting strength and energy into the stomach. They quickly arouse the stomach from its inaction, and in a short time it is able to do its work properly.

And bear in mind that when the stomach is in good condition, constipation disappears, also nervousness, drowsiness, night sweats, heartburn, etc.

The leading druggists sell Mi-o-na tablets under a rigid guarantee to do all that is claimed for them, or money back.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 22.—Advices received from Washington, D. C., say that the controller of the currency today received the report of Bank Examiner Claude Gatch showing that the affairs of the Farmers and Traders National Bank of La Grande, which recently failed, are worse than at first anticipated. At the time of making his report, Gatch had discovered a shortage of $47,000, and as other liabilities are discovered this shortage may grow. The face value of the bank's accounts were $166,781, and its liabilities, as far as can be ascertained, $213,515.

A MAN FROM 'FRISCO

W. H. Harvey of 264 Eureka Street, San Francisco, Relieved of Over 200 Gall Stones by Fer-Don's European Medical Experts and Bloodless Surgeons.

It seems almost miraculous and it is startling in the extreme when one considers how much good the Fer-Don remedies have accomplished and the wonderful treatments the European Medical Experts and Bloodless Surgeons have performed here in Oakland and vicinity. Startling are many of the remarkable cures made by these remedies and treatments. It is being revealed to all who care to investigate that many who had given up all hope of ever coming back to health, through the treatments of other physicians and specialists, have been cured by the European Medical Experts. The names of those benefited and cured makes a longer list each day. Many of those who have been relieved are among the prominent in Oakland's business and social life, whose names are withheld at their request. The long list of testimonials gives evidence to the fact that these experts are really doing a great work in curing chronic diseases, deafness, rheumatism, and in removing tumors, cancers, gall stones and other abnormal growths without the use of a knife, by their painless, bloodless methods.

W. H. Harvey of San Francisco, living at 264 Eureka street, that city, had been suffering with gall stones. Most of the time he has been unable to eat and when he did eat he experienced great pain and misery; his liver was enlarged and pained him excruciatingly, his complexion was as yellow as saffron.

"Physicians examined me, thumped my sides and my chest, looked at my tongue and told me an operation was necessary," said Mr. Harvey in speaking to a reporter. "I had heard of Fer-Don's European Medical Experts and came to them. I took just one dose of Fer-Don's preparation for gall stones and in a few hours I was relieved of over 200 gall stones. Those are the ones," he said as he pointed to a small jar on the table. "Some are as large as the end of my little finger. I am now well, a rejuvenated man, and I am happy to know I was cured without the use of a knife."

It is interesting to hear the number of stories told every day and every evening at the offices of the European Medical Experts at 1059 Broadway. The stories of those cured of the different chronic diseases, and of those who have been relieved of tumors, cancers and gall stones seem most remarkable. And all express great satisfaction both at the quickness and the completeness of their cures.

Interesting demonstrations are made every night upon the deaf and lame at the free show grounds at 19th and Broadway. Those who are suffering from deafness are made to hear in less than three minutes' time with one application of the Fer-Don preparations.

WERE SECRETLY WED ON ST. PATRICK'S DAY

Though married since St. Patrick's Day, the family and friends of Miss Agnes Halliday and Frank Gordan are just resting over it. That an engagement between the young people existed was quite an open secret, but that the marriage had been solemnized many months ago, was not suspected even by the groom's mother, Mrs. M. late Mr. and Mrs. William Halliday. P. Cole of 1233 Myrtle st, with whom the young couple have been living.

Gordan and his sweetheart slipped away on the morning train for Stockton on St. Patrick's Day, were married in that city and returned to the home of the groom's mother and have closely guarded their secret until a day or so ago.

STANFORD GRADUATE SERIOUSLY CHARGED

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 22.—William F. Bailey of Sacramento, a graduate of Leland Stanford University, was arrested here this morning charged with larceny of $130 and a gold watch from Miss Blanche Whitcom of Chicago. Bailey, who is a civil engineer, was on his way home from Panama for a visit when he met Miss Whitcom, who was also returning from the canal zone.

She had been down there handling postal cards, and came back with quite a little money. She and Bailey became very friendly. After several days of fast traveling Bailey's money gave out but the fun did not stop. About that time either Miss Whitcom lost the money he is accused of stealing, or he took it. This morning Miss Whitcom appeared at police headquarters and reported the loss of her property and secured Bailey's arrest. Bailey is held on $500 bail, which has not yet arrived to release him.

Benjamin Franklin wore far and near glasses 148 years ago—

Nearly 150 years ago Benj Franklin saw the inconvenience of having two pair of glasses, one for reading and one for distant vision, and by fitting both a far-and-near lens in one frame originated the bifocal lens.

For almost a century and a half the American people, satisfied with the two-piece bifocal, schooled themselves to lose sight of the inevitable line across the glass made by the joining of the two lenses.

For the past three or four years, however, efforts have been made to invent a fusing process which would make the two lenses into practically one piece with no discernible line Results have been varied and none have been satisfactory to us until recently, as too much lens quality had to be sacrificed for the sake of appearance.

We have always believed that glasses, above all things should be optically perfect and until an optically perfect one piece bifocal could be made we would not recommend them

This has at last been accomplished and now we can guarantee to fit you properly with far-and-near lenses of one piece and conscientiously advise their use

We make this announcement advisedly and only after positive assurance that these lenses are perfect.

COMMITTEE OF CITY COUNCIL VOTES AGAINST A RECOMMENDATION FOR ISSUANCE OF BONDS FOR WATER FRONT IMPROVEMENTS UNTIL SETTLEMENT IS MADE WITH S. P. RAILROAD CO.

Only Five Votes Secured When the Full Quota of Six Is Demanded

Statements have been made in the various papers that the waterfront bond issue was lost by the vote taken at the City Council committee last night.

That is not the truth.

The motion which was defeated was a recommendation that the Council order a bond election for $3,000,000 for water front improvements.

Inasmuch as it was premature owing to the fact that the many matters relating to waterfront improvements have not been settled, the council committee declined to agree to any amount at the present time, and the matter went over until after the settlement with the Southern Pacific Company is concluded.

ONLY FIVE AFFIRMATIVE VOTES

For the third time within the history of general discussion over proposed harbor improvements the committee of the whole of the City Council last night defeated a motion to recommend to the Council that a bond election of $3,000,000 be called for harbor improvements.

Six votes were necessary to carry the motion which was put by Councilman Jackson. There were but five votes in the affirmative; three negatives; two absent and one excused.

This vote was taken only after a discussion of three hours, it being followed by another lengthy discussion over the adoption of the proposed agreement between the city and the Southern Pacific Company looking toward an adjustment of water front differences.

Councilman Jackson, chairman of the committee on wharves and water front, started the ball rolling in the all-absorbing water front affairs which was made the special order of business at the called meeting of the committee of the whole.

TWO SUBJECTS DISCUSSED

It was explained by Councilman Pendleton who was chosen chairman of the evening that there were two separate and distinct subjects up for discussion, one concerning the proposed plan of bonding the city for harbor improvements and the other the question of adopting the proposed agreement between the city and the Southern Pacific Company.

When the session was formally declared open for business, Councilman Jackson at once moved that the committee of the whole vote to recommend to the council to bond the city for the sum of $3,000,000 for the improvements of sections 1, 2, 3 and 5 of the waterfront. His motion was seconded by Councilman Burns, a general discussion on the needs of the harbor and the amount of money which should be called for under a bond election, being thus opened. On motion of Councilman Burns, members of local organizations were invited to express their views.

NOT ENOUGH LAND.

James Montgomery of North Oakland was the first speaker of the evening. He said:

"The question presented by Councilman Jackson was brought before the Central Oakland Club and it was the opinion that it would be proper to take up the improvement of the harbor as Dr. Jackson has suggested and that a compromise such as presented by the Board of Public Works would be extremely hazardous.

"I will say that a diligent study of the compromise leads us to the opinion that not enough land will be left to do anything with should we compromise.

"Were the compromise accepted, it would force the city in later years into the northwestern part of the harbor. While it would be a benefit to our part of the city, our public spirit forbids us accepting the compromise.

"If you make the mistake of not developing the harbor front now it will be a great setback to Oakland. I say, be guided by motives of patriotism in this momentous affair."

GET DOWN TO WORK.

N. J. Hurby of West Oakland said:

"The citizens of Oakland are very anxious that the harbor be improved. I know that the majority want it. Don't wait to compromise with the railroads. Go to work and make your improvements and then see what they can do. Let this be our compromise. Issue the bonds.

"All they can do it to bring an injunction, so issue the bonds."

J. C. Downey was asked to express his opinion and he said in substance the same as Hurby, that he thought it would be the best policy on the part of the city to issue the bonds.

Wilbur Walker, secretary of the Merchants' Exchange, was next called upon. He thought that the pressing need of the city was the improvement of the harbor. "Commerce is the thing we need and that will be the way to get it.

"Let us take example of what has happened before and prepare the city for an increase in commerce. I believe, gentlemen, that the city will vote the bonds by a large majority."

ISSUE THE BONDS.

W. E. Gibson—"I have been living in Oakland for fifteen years. We are informed that the development of the water front is the question paramount. I believe that the water front should be developed. I am for improvement. We have had our taxes increased from year to year. We get nothing for it. It is time that we did get something. We should develop the water front and issue bonds for it."

Councilman Burns—"I do not want to be the father of every person speaking, but I call on J. B. Bowen of the Central Labor Council."

VIEWS OF LABOR.

J. B. Bowen said:

"I don't know whether I can speak with authority for the labor unions, but every man that I have heard speak of the matter is in favor of the bond issue. I believe in the three millions. Let us go ahead and do something."

George W. Arper of the Merchants' Exchange said:

"I am quite sure that no one could disagree with the men who have spoken already. I know how sadly Oakland needs this water front improvement. For the city to progress the city must have the improvement. The only question with me is the time of the issuance of the bonds and the Council is able to handle that. Private companies are getting the revenues that the city should be getting. Look at our sister metropolis, Los Angeles. They, too, felt the need of a water outlet. They found, like Oakland, that San Pedro was in the hands of private owners. Watch Los Angeles and see what she will do about it.

"The only difference between the two is that the city of Oakland already owns the frontage and can institute the suit herself, whereas Los Angeles has had to institute her suits in the name of the State.

"They have not been waiting 50 years and there is no reason why Oakland should wait. If all the traffic revenue were turned into the city there would be an immense income, so I say go after it."

FAVORED THE BONDS.

H. A. Ingram was then introduced and spoke in favor of the issuance of the bonds. He said:

"The Alcatraz Improvement Club is heartily in favor of the improvement of the Oakland harbor. The opinion of the members of the club is that the bonds should be issued immediately. There does not seem to be any good reason why the bonds should not be issued."

SEVENTH WARD.

S. G. Pembrook from the Seventh ward said:

"Oakland has not helped herself as she might. I know nearly every foot of the waterfront and there is not a foot of city property fit to bond on. It is time we got to work. We have a waterfront, and all we have to do is to exert ourselves, put up the money and improve it."

BUSINESS PROPOSITION.

H. K. Miller, a former superintendent of streets, said that we need commercial wharves, railway terminals and passenger wharves and the frontage should be divided in three grand divisions.

"It is purely a business proposition," he said, "and business men could probably figure out just how much wharfage is needed for the next twenty years.

"Other railways will be knocking at our doors in time, and the city should make provision for such growth, we need the improvements, and the bonds should be voted."

BOND THE CITY.

J. Taylor, of the North Adeline Improvement Club, was in favor of going ahead with waterfront improvements irrespective of the railroad companies.

"Let us go down on the waterfront and go to work and if necessary we will call out the entire police department to back us up," he said. "We should bond the city and go ahead with our harbor improvements independent of all outside interests."

Councilman Ellsworth at this stage of the proceedings took the floor and said that it was his understanding that the citizens in general had been invited to discuss the proposed compromise and not the bond issue question. He thought much time could be saved if the Council would first dispose of the bond issue question and then call for addresses on the subject in general.

LET EVERYONE TALK.

Councilman Burns objected to this and thought that anyone in the audience should be allowed to speak. He said that he would not vote on the proposition without having heard the public opinion. Councilman Jackson was here allowed the floor and said that considering that Councilman Ellsworth had said that at the first part of the meeting that his mind was not fully made up so that he was willing to vote on the bond question that the hearing of the arguments might benefit him.

Councilman Burns then again took the floor and declared that his record would show that he had been a Councilman for the people and was not at this time trying to do politics and did not care to see the public discussion closed down.

SARCASTIC REPARTIE.

"You may not be doing politics," interrupted Councilman Ellsworth, "but you do considerable playing to the gallery."

"Well, I don't do politics with a club," replied Burns.

"Neither do I," answered Ellsworth; this remark ending the personalities.

It was then agreed by the Councilmen that all who wished to be heard might express their opinions but for the time being must confine themselves to the bond issue question.

SETTLE THE COMPROMISE.

J. T. Sanford, president of the Clinton Improvement Club, then took the floor and he was strongly in favor of the bonding of the city, but thought that the matter of compromise should be settled first.

"My club is not in sympathy with the present compromise," he said. "We think that Oakland should rent to any railroad that wants to come into the waterfront a portion of the waterfront. We hope that the City Council will come to a quick conclusion in regard to all water front affairs."

At the close of the general discussion Councilman Ellsworth said that he had explained at a previous meeting that he would be willing to vote for the $3,000,000, but that he would not vote for the bonds unless part of it should be used for the improvement of the western water front and the Key Route Basin.

He then read specifications for improvements drawn up by P. F. Brown, assistant city engineer, concerning the improvement of the sections mentioned. The total cost was estimated at $1,250,000 for the first section and $820,000 for the second section. He had the maps, he said, for his own information.

FOUGHT OVER PLANS.

Councilman Elliott here asked what the object of these plans was.

Ellsworth said they were merely supplemental to the other plans and that he had just received them.

"Let me ask you," said Councilman Burns, "how it is that you are able to get maps in short order when it took the chairman of the wharves and water front committee about eighteen months to get what maps he wanted?"

"I couldn't tell you that," replied Councilman Ellsworth.

"Well, there is something rotten some place," answered Burns.

Councilman Elliott thought the introduction or mention of so many plans or estimates tended to cause confusion. In this Councilman Burns agreed and said he thought Councilman Ellsworth was making a move looking toward a delay in the bond issue question.

"Every time we think we have this all important subject before the Council, something hobs up to cause a delay," said Councilman Jackson.

TIRED OF DELAYS.

"I first favored a bond issue of $4,500,000. I learned that I would not be supported in this and agreed to reduce the amount to $3,000,000, it being understood by me that I would have the general support of the Council in that respect. But I see I was in error.

"Instead of receiving reports which would clear our way, we have been handed proposed compromises and now our attention is called to maps which only tend to confuse us. I am only trying to get this before the people and the question of a bond issue should by all means be put up to the voters."

"Have you an opinion from the City Attorney as to the validity of the bonds?" questioned Chairman Pendleton.

RENEWED HIS MOTION.

"No, I have not," replied Jackson. "I do not think that point is at issue at this time. I now renew and call for my motion that the committee of the whole recommend to the Council that a bond election for $3,000,000 for harbor improvements in the estuary, Key Route Basin and white meat."

"I believe we should hear from City Attorney McElroy as to whether the bonds would be valid and whether the city can go into the wharf building and harbor making business."

McELROY'S OPINION.

Attorney McElroy then said:

"If it is a question whether the city can engage into a business enterprise, then the people will not buy the bonds and it is a question as to whether the city can do this. We base our rights on the Supreme Court decision. The Circuit Court, however, has decided that the city can build wharves."

Attorney William R. Davis said that there was no doubt but what the city could go into the wharfing out business.

"The bonds would not be marketable, I take it, however, until pending water front litigation is settled. It is not a legal question so much as a business one."

"If that be so the bonds would be legal if drawn up according to law," then said Councilman Elliott. "It would be a question of whether they would sell. This would not depend on the legality or illegality of the bonds, but whether the fact that litigation now pending would injure the bonds so far as their marketable value is concerned."

VALIDITY OF BONDS.

"The concrete question is whether the findings of the Circuit Court of Appeals is final," said Attorney Davis. "If you make a bond issue you must specify what property is to be improved. This would prevent a move to use up bonds in the improvement of sections not mentioned in the bond election call."

"I think the people are willing to vote on this question and take a chance with the bonds," said Councilman Jackson. "I call for the question."

HOW VOTE STOOD.

The motion was then lost by a vote of 5 ayes, 3 noes, two absent and one excused from voting, it taking six votes to carry the motion. The vote was as follows:

Ayes—Aitken, Burns, Elliott, Jackson and Stachler.

Noes—Bronner, Pendleton and Ellsworth.

Absent—Everhart and Mullins.

Excused—Baccus.

Those voting aye expressed themselves as being emphatically in favor of bonding the city for water front improvements.

Those voting no are desirous of seeing the compromise question settled before the bond issue is taken up.

Councilman Baccus was excused on the grounds that he was not prepared to vote either for or against the motion.

JAST STIRS THE MEETING.

There was a good sized package of spice thrown into the whole affair by Theodore Jast when he took the floor to address the committee when the adoption of the proposed compromise between the city and the Southern Pacific Company was brought up following the defeat of the bond issue question. He said he had faith in the Board of Works and declared that the lobby was filled with cranks who attempted to belittle the efforts of the city officials.

"Every crank in Oakland," he said, "seemed to gather in the lobby of the council room years ago and I see things round the same. I have lived here twenty-two years, and this is our first chance in that time to end this matter. Huntingtons, Stanfords, Fillmores have come and gone, but this discussion goes on forever.

"I say that I am in favor of trusting to the members of the Board of Public Works. They have been working hard and we have been criticising them. I say again let them continue their good work."

OPPOSED THE COMPROMISE.

He was followed by James I. Montgomery, who spoke against the compromise. He declared that section 5 of the agreement showed either ignorance or direct intention to betray the city, this being his personal opinion. The clause was drawn up by William H. Davis. "There seems to have been subterfuge in this compromise," said Montgomery.

When Geo. Arper took the floor to speak against the adoption of the proposed agreement Councilman Elliott questioned him as to the particular objections he had. It was difficult to determine at the close of the argument objections lay, the close the part of Elliott having an apparent entire opposition.

Arper finally admitted some move or agreement would be a settlement of affairs between the city and Southern Pacific Company when of going even further than proposed agreement by Southern Pacific Company which giving them all the land called they pay for it.

SEES MUCH GOOD.

Councilman Elliott, after reading, explained that of good in the proposed is of the opinion that the end of the agreement was it was evident that protestants section by section in the discovery that they it as had a document a pointed by some Owing that no agreement could that many citizens still wish ad ournment was taken Monday night, when the will again be taken up meeting of the committee.

With the object in view thorough investigation of compromise between the Southern Pacific Company, resolution was adopted at a ing of the Alameda County Tuesday evening and was council meeting last night.

FILED A PROTEST.

During the session the following protest was filed and read:

"Oakland, Oct. 21, 1908. Oakland City Council, Oakland, California. Gentlemen—Referring to our recent petition made to your honorable body in reference to granting us an extension of Sixth avenue at grade to the southerly side of the Southern Pacific right of way, we beg to submit herewith certain facts which have recently come to us from reliable sources and which have considerable bearing on the subject. These are as follows:

"That the city of Oakland had dedicated Fifth avenue and Ninth avenue as streets through to the water front a very long time ago, and have proof of same from records on file at City Engineer's office, this mentions also a street between Fifth and Ninth avenue running east and west and parallel to the Southern Pacific railroad.

"Further, that Sixth avenue, by slight deflection to the east, can be laid out in such a manner as to cross land now really owned by the city of Oakland and at present occupied by the Southern Pacific company by "squatter" rights only. We are informed that the above situation existed before the sale of the Stratton patents to the Southern Pacific Company.

"We further wish to go on record as being unalterably opposed to an overhead crossing on any of the streets from Fifth to Ninth avenue, as now proposed by the compromise under discussion between the Southern Pacific Company and the city of Oakland.

Good Men for Supervisors.

In C. F. Horner, John F. Mullins and F. W. Foss the Republicans have named candidates of exceptional worth for the Board of Supervisors. All are business men of character and standing They are men of unassailable integrity, and in their private lives illustrate the virtues of thrift and good citizenship. Neither has personal or political associations of a dubious character. All are men who can be relied on to manage the county's affairs with prudence and sagacity, and to handle the finances with intelligence and rectitude. Their election is a matter of form; indeed, there is no apparent reason why i should be contested in districts so overwhelmingly Republican.

Mr. Horner has served two terms as Supervisor. He is one of the most useful men on the Board. Among his neighbors he is esteemed as highly for his genial, manly qualities as for his uprightness and robust devotion to public duty. He has a firm grasp on the county's affairs, and takes a business man's view of public matters. Representing the rural section of the county, he has been of invaluable service to his constituents in the matter of road improvement. On the subject of good roads Mr Horner is an enthusiast. He has given it profound study, and is an authority on the subject. He is an ideal man for the district he represents.

Mr. Mullins, who has been named in the district now represented by Chairman Mitchell, is a fine example of the young business man. As a member of the Oakland City Council he has demonstrated his capacity and his loyalty to the public interests. His position in mercantile life is an honorable and enviable one. He is clean, capable and intelligent He will do what is right, and no man can make a mistake in voting for him.

Mr. Foss, who has been named to succeed Supervisor Rowe, is a prominent citizen of Berkeley, where he successfully conducts a large business and holds a high place in the estimation of his neighbors. He has never held public office, but his business experience has been extensive. He possesses both character and talents, and will bring to the service of the county a keen mind trained to business habits and perceptions. Such a man can be of great service on the County Board, and the Republicans of his district should make sure of Mr. Foss' election by a rousing majority.

Nearly $1,750,000 is disbursed annually by direction of the Board of Supervisors, hence the need of men of sound business ideas and training on the Board. It costs a great deal to run this big county, and the taxpayers should elect Supervisors who will expend the public money wisely and economically, and in a way to secure the best results for the public at large. Messrs. Horner, Mullins and Foss are the right sort of men.

Blunders Are Not Policies.

The Democrats are circulating handbills carrying the extract from President Roosevelt's Message to Congress recommending the immediate passage of an act permitting Japanese to be naturalized as citizens, accompanied by the statement that this is one of the Roosevelt policies Judge Taft has promised to carry out. Judge Taft has never committed himself to any such proposition, and the Republican platform on which he was nominated does not sanction it. Congress wisely threw the President's recommendation into the waste basket. Had the Republican majority followed it every State on the Pacific Coast would be hopelessly Democratic this year. Congress has been roundly abused for not blindly obeying the President's orders, but in this particular matter the refusal to follow White House instructions conserved the public interests in a vital particular and averted Republican disaster at the polls. In his Message the President also threatened to call out the troops if Japanese children were not at once admitted to the Caucasian schools in San Francisco. Neither Taft nor the Republican party stands for that intemperate and idle threat Nor can that unfortunate expression be classed as a "Roosevelt policy." Roosevelt folly would be a better name for breaks of that character. Judge Taft inspires confidence because he does not go off at half-cock nor commit himself to foolish propositions dictated by petulance and momentary irritation. The Democratic State Committee is doing petty politics in trying to make Taft responsible for the President's mistake, but their efforts demonstrate the unwisdom of representing that Judge Taft endorses every act and utterance of Theodore Roosevelt. Judge Taft stands upon the achievements of the Republican party and for the policies set forth in the Chicago platform. He is on firm, safe ground there, and when he steps away from them he is in danger of getting entangled in minor side issues and the personal controversies of his predecessor. It is quite natural that the supporters of Bryan should try to make him shoulder the blunders and antagonisms of the President, but it is suicidal folly for Republicans to insist on his being weighted down with such irrelevant rubbish. Besides, everything Mr. Roosevelt chooses to say is not a "policy" or the expression of a political principle.

"Ephraim feedeth on the wind." This is President Roosevelt's characterization of those who are following the Bryan word-mongering. It is a happy hit. According to the Bible, Ephraim was prone to wander after strange gods, hence the saying "Ephraim feedeth on the wind." Truly does the description of Ephraim fit the Democracy of today.

His speechmaking tour proves that Bryan has lost none of his drawing powers as an orator, though all the indications point to a marked decline in his drawing power as a candidate. He can get the crowds at his meetings, but not the votes at the polls. That was the trouble with Tom Fitch and Henry Edgerton.

A reminder of certain persons and ructions that were somewhat in the papers last summer, but have completely dropped out of sight within more recent times, is afforded in the announcement that if William J. Bryan is elected President of the United States, Theodore A. Bell will become the Attorney-General of the same nation.

A Santa Rosa man, who purchased an automobile which turned out to be a consistent and irrepressible hoodoo, has petitioned the City Council for permission to make a bonfire of it in the public streets. This may be a dangerous precedent, as showing many others a way out of their troubles.

The first official duty that seems to be required of the San Francisco Board of Supervisors is to cinch, worry, thwart and annoy the United Railways Company in its efforts to extend and perfect its lines. The prize puzzle is to find the man who inspires and compels such action

The Ruef jurors might resort to petitions to the board in charge of such things, and thus get pardoned out. Otherwise they may be in for life.

Psychological Moment Arrives: The President Writes Another Letter.

It has been clear all along that the "labor" plank in the Democratic platform has been of a nature analogous to dust, which it was believed by Bryan and the labor leaders would get in the eyes of voters and leave their sight imperfect as to the whole question, and in the confusion, that they might be induced to believe it to be something which it was not. In furtherance of that idea Mr. Gompers, on the 13th of the present month, published a letter in which the assumption of himself and the Democratic candidate as to the gullibility of voters was manifest rather incautiously.

He told how "labor's representative" (meaning himself) went before the Republican convention "for remedy against injunction" and was denied; and how the Democratic party, when he applied, "made labor's contentions its own."

Gompers' incaution must now be more apparent, for his letter, with its misstatements and misleading assumptions, has inspired the President to write a letter on the subject: and nobody ever yet found satisfaction in a Roosevelt broadside in which himself or his statements were the subjects treated.

The President proceeds to analyze the Democratic anti-injunction plank and the Gompers letter in that extraordinary incisive way of his that makes everything so clear He refers to the things which Mr. Gompers and Mr Bryan pretend to promise to secure the support of organized laboring men as measures which would be "either wholly ineffective or else of widespread injury not only to organized labor, but to all decent citizens throughout the country."

This letter is addressed to Senator Knox, and is nominally a congratulation upon his speech delivered at Philadelphia on Tuesday last, wherein he took issue with Gompers as to the attitude of organized labor in the present campaign. The President reminds Senator Knox that he has a peculiar right to speak on the labor question, for as Attorney-General he was the first to actively invoke the "great power of the Federal government on behalf of the rights of labor when for the first time in the history of the government you, speaking for the Department of Justice, intervened in a private lawsuit which had gone against a locomotive fireman who had lost an arm in coupling cars, and by your intervention secured a construction of the Safety Appliance Act which made it a vital remedial statute, and therefore has secured to hundreds of crippled employes and widows of crippled employes compensation which they would not have otherwise obtained."

Then the President goes on to pick to pieces the sham "plank" which actually promises nothing—and if it did promise the thing which Gompers is trying to mislead organized labor into believing, would be of no avail, as it would not stand the test of constitutionality an instant.

Such indirection as Gompers is guilty of in this connection makes a sorry showing when contrasted with the straightforward lucidity of the President; and he could not have expected to inspire to activity the Presidential pen when he essayed to reach and hoodwink organized labor through his letter promulgated so widely through the press on the 13th instant.

Those who go out with guns and such inadequate experience as to shoot their companions in the delirium of buck fever are the next dangerous element to be taken in hand. One such is reported from Riddle, Oregon. The unfortunate victim did not bear as much resemblance to a deer as a fur cap would afford. Such "sportsmen" need a different kind of hunter's license, which would prohibit their carrying firearms.

In answer to the Collier "expose," purporting to tell how the Standard Oil letters were obtained, Mr. Hearst says "Rot!" and announces the early promulgation of another installment.

The iconoclastic crank has gathered historic information that warrants him in stating that the first five Presidents of the United States ate pie with their knives.

ASKS COURT TO PROHIBIT USE OF VOTING MACHINE

Voter Positively Refuses to Learn Its Use

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct 22.—The following petition was filed in the United States Court today by F R Porter of Oakland

HON. JOHN J DE HAVEN United States Judge, Northern District of California—Your Honor: I am a citizen of the United States, a qualified elector of the State of California and an inhabitant of the Sixth Precinct of the Fifth Ward of the city of Oakland, in said State

I desire to express my right of suffrage at the National election to be held on the 3d day of November A D 1908

But I shall be debarred from so doing by this status to wit

MUST USE VOTING MACHINE.

In accordance with Section 6, of Article 2, of the Constitution of California (said section having been ratified in 1902), it is obligatory for the qualified elector of the precinct aforesaid to use a voting machine (known as the Dean machine) in order not to be disfranchised

Said section of said constitution of said State is the successor to an amendment to said constitution which was adopted in 1896 and which was entitled "Election to be by ballot or otherwise"

And said section (viz 6 of Article 2 of said constitution) is a substitute for Section 6 of Article 2 of said constitution, which said section was adopted in 1849 and does read as follows All elections by the people shall be by ballot"

NEEDS COACHING.

Now, as a matter of fact, the average qualified elector of said precinct must be coached ten or fifteen minutes or longer before he is competent to operate said voting machine

And also when said qualified elector shall have formally operated said voting machine the doubt must prevail in his mind that it is possible or probable that the mechanism of said voting machine has not really registered correctly his will in these premises

Now the foregoing charge is proof conclusive that the citizen of the United States residing in said precinct must either trust to the accuracy of said machine and presume his vote has been rightfully cast, or else he can waive his allegiance to his country by remaining away from the polls on said 3d day of November A D 1908

Your orator sets forth in addition, as a part of this petition, that he does not know how to operate said voting machine, and also he will not learn how to manipulate said machine being of the belief that it is a faulty affair and that its employment is in violation of Section 1 of Article XIV of the Constitution of the United States which said section does read as follows 'No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States * * *'

QUOTES THE CONSTITUTION.

And in conjunction herewith I will quote from the Constitution of the United States as follows

"Article 3 Section 2 The judicial power shall extend to all cases in law and equity arising under this constitution * * *

'Article 4, Section 2' The citizens of each State shall be entitled to all the privileges and immunities of citizens in the several States

'Article 6, Section 2 This constitution * * * shall be the supreme law of the land * * *'

ASKS FOR INJUNCTION.

Finally, your Honor, I now ask that your court shall issue a writ of injunction prohibiting the use of said voting machine, or any other voting machine in the Sixth Precinct of the Fifth Ward of the city of Oakland, State of California, U. S. A, on the 3d day of November, A D 1908, to wit in connection with the National election to be held then and there, as aforesaid

(And, as force to the foregoing showing and prayer, I enclose herewith an editorial from the 'Oakland Tribune' of October 20 1908, which said newspaper clipping is captioned as follows 'Necessity of Simplifying Manner of Voting.')

MUSICAL TREAT AT MACDONOUGH THEATER THIS EVENING

The benefit for St. Andrews Church, which will be given at the Macdonough Theater this evening will be one of the musical treats of the season. The fact that Father Robert Sesnon has consented to lend his beautiful voice upon this occasion is sufficient to assure success. Something over a year ago the reverend pastor gave up his pastoral charge and took a much needed rest. He has been greatly missed in the parish, where he took such an active interest and from all reports there will be a crowded auditorium to greet the dearly loved pastor this evening.

Father Sesnon, to whom the Gods have been so generous, gives of his talents when a worthy charity is to be aided and the object of this evening's affair is worthy of his assistance. The Rev Father P. J. Quinn, the pastor of St Andrew's parish, is a man of admirable qualities, who is seeking with the utmost patience and perseverance for the upbuilding of his parish.

The concert this evening will be chiefly of ballads, which are always acceptable, for nothing has ever been written that is sweeter than the dear old English ballads. Besides Father Sesnon's numbers, Mrs. J. Llewellyn Hughes will contribute a number of charming songs; Miss Josephine Ryan, a talented contralto of Stockton, and Frank Figone will all contribute to the interesting program.

Barry is the son of one of the landed proprietors of Sacramento county and is engaged in ranching in Grand Island, near Walnut Grove. It is there that the young couple are to make their home. The pretty secret was told at the luncheon given by Miss Sundell and Mrs. Robert Valleau to the wedding attendants of Miss Edna Lehnhardt. After the guests were welcomed little peanut men in full evening dress were distributed, telling, through the medium of the names they bore, of the engagement.

The bridal party, consisting of Miss Lehnhardt, her maid of honor, Miss Francis Williamson, Miss Elizabeth Fitzgibbon, Miss Adele Ehrenberg, the Misses Annie and Mary Englehardt, Miss Bessie Valleau, Mrs. Robert Valleau and Miss Sundell formed a receiving party for the tea which followed luncheon.

BLAKE MAY GET IMMUNITY BATH

Hold Conference With Burns and Looks Like He Will Turn State's Evidence.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—With the time for sentence of E. A. S. Blake, convicted jury fixer for Abe Ruef, set over until Monday next; with Special Agent William J. Burns in conference with Blake, and with Blake's attorney, William Schooler, in conference with District Attorney Langdon, the signs seemed propitious yesterday for a new sensation in the graft cases.

When the Blake case was called on the calendar Schooler said that his associate counsel, Carl Lindsey, was out of town and on that account asked a continuance until a later date.

Langdon had no objection to make in the matter and the court set the time for next Monday morning.

During the afternoon Burns and Blake were together and Schooler was conspicuous about the Grant building.

GOOD TIMES, SAY BANKS' REPORTS

Financial Condition of Country Shows a Marked Improvement.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The abstract of reports of the condition of the 6853 national banks, under a call issued by the Controller of the Currency for statements of September 23, 1908, issued today furnishes evidence, in the opinion of treasury officials, of vastly improved business conditions.

The five principal items in the returns show that since February 14, 1908, the loans and deposits in the national banks of the country have increased from $4,222,353,647 to $4,750,612,731, a difference in a little over seven months of about $328,000,000, and during the same period in total resources national banks have increased $631,000,000. The combined capital stock paid in has advanced nearly $20,000,000, and the surplus about $11,000,000. The most remarkable of the totals given is as to individual deposits, which have increased during the last seven months from $4,105,814,418 to $4,548,135,165, a difference of $443,000,000.

HEARST DENIES THAT HE PAID FOR LETTERS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 22.—William Randolph Hearst stopped here yesterday on his way to Petersburg, Ill., to speak there at a meeting in honor of Thomas L. Hisgen.

"Will you answer an article in Collier's Weekly in which it is charged that you paid two men $12,000 to steal those letters from the office of John D. Archbold?" Hearst was asked.

"Oh, that article is silly rot," he answered.

"There is not a word of truth in it. I never saw them. It says something about letters from Senator Aldrich."

Hearst, however, said additional Standard Oil letters of more importance than any thus far read are to be made public in the Independence party meeting in New York Saturday night. He declared they are better than any thus far given publicity and that he had saved them for the finish of the campaign.

ROMEO AND JULIET BROUGHT TO DATE

Chicago Boy and London Girl Introduced by Shakespeare in Liverpool

CHICAGO.—"Hello, Juliet," said the Chicago boy.

"Hello, Romeo," answered the English girl.

And then she ran.

The Chicago boy was Arthur Bloodgood Tuttle, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Fay Tuttle of 5330 Jefferson avenue. The English girl was Miss Elizabeth Whittaker, daughter of the late Sir Joseph Whittaker of London. The scene was the court yard of a Liverpool hotel. The time was late in the month of July—last. Mr. and Mrs. Tuttle made the following announcement:

"Mr. and Mrs. W. Fay Tuttle, 5330 Jefferson avenue announce the marriage of their son, Arthur Bloodgood Tuttle, to Miss Elizabeth Whittaker, daughter of the late Sir Joseph Whittaker of London, England, which took place September 18."

IT'S A ROMANTIC STORY.

The story which led to the announcement is one of the romantic ones for which those ever faithful lovers of history—Romeo and Juliet—have been responsible to date, and its telling brings to mind the days of the knights and ladies and their flower of romance and chivalry.

Arthur Bloodgood Tuttle, not yet 20 years of age, but one of the promising young architects of the city, sailed on July 18 last with a party of young architects, bent on a tour of the world. According to plans, the boys were to spend a year traveling through the various countries sightseeing and studying architecture.

One week later found them in Liverpool. Young Tuttle had purchased a wheel just before leaving America, which he had taken along that he might get to nooks and crannies otherwise difficult to reach. The day after landing in Liverpool he donned wheeling clothes, snatched a cake of milk chocolate, lighted a cigarette, took his wheel out of its packings, and prepared to start for a long and early morning spin. For just a few moments he hesitated in the court yard of the hotel, and while he hesitated he munched the chocolate and blew puffs of cigarette smoke. Presently he glanced upward. At a second story window stood a dainty bit of English femininity.

"Hello, Juliet," said young Tuttle between munches.

"Hello, Romeo," came the answer.

GIRL'S CHAPERON OBJECTS.

And then the scene of the story shifted. Miss Whittaker, whose parents have been dead some years, was at the hotel under the chaperonage of an aunt, and no sooner had she responded to the handsome Chicago youth than, overcome with fear of her own temerity, she sought her aunt and poured out the story of her act. Questions brought out the description of the youth and what he was doing.

"Then," said the aunt, "he is an American and you must not meet him again." This order because little Miss Whittaker time and again not only had declared in favor of Americans but had registered a vow that if ever she wed she would choose from America's men.

Young Tuttle proved worthy as an American wooer. He sought hotel acquaintances with no other object in view than to meet the girl of the window, and the next day was rewarded with an introduction. Two days later the courtship, continuing with the rapidity which had characterized its beginning, blossomed into a betrothal and architecture, English or otherwise, was forgotten.

In September the young man cabled his parents his intention to wed. The two families counseled and the wedding took place September 18, one week later.

Through his mother, who was Marion Bloodgood of New York, young Tuttle is related to the well known Bloodgood family of the East. His grandfather was Arthur Bloodgood of New York, for whom he is named and through whose estate the groom will come into a considerable fortune when he reaches 21 years of age.

TRIPLE CELEBRATION ON NOVEMBER 5.

For his second wife Tuttle married the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Euziere of Manteno, Ill., and Mrs. Tuttle, who has been devoted to her stepson, is planning a triple celebration for November 5, when she will entertain in honor of her wedding to Mr. Tuttle, which is also the wedding anniversary of her parents, and will be the introduction of the bride and groom from England. The young people will live in Chicago until after the groom reaches his majority, when young Tuttle expects to enter the Beaux Arts, Paris, for a year's study. They will return to make Chicago their home.

Woman's Greatest Happiness Is Being an Old Maid, Says Countess

(By NIXOLA GREELEY-SMITH)

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—"There is no happiness like that of an old maid."

Such is the remarkable statement of Countess Lydia Kostoptchine, granddaughter of the Russian General who ordered the burning of Moscow, and so compelled Napoleon to abandon his Russian campaign.

The Countess, who has come to this country to lecture, ought to know what she is talking about, for she is seventy years old, and has never been married.

"Woman's genius is for devotion," the Russian Countess continued. "A married woman's devotion is limited to her husband and children, but the old maid lavishes her love on all the poor and unfortunate.

"Love at best brings suffering. It is a wound which the heart of every woman receives at least once, and marriage is nothing but amputation—the extremest measure. If the heart heals of itself—and it will if it be given time—the greatest happiness of life follows.

"You are deadened to all suffering yourself, and can give all your time and thoughts to the sufferings of others. The superior woman, the artist, owes herself to humanity, to Art. She should not give herself to an individual."

"Then you really believe that only inferior women should marry?" I asked incredulously.

"Yes," nodded the Countess, emphatically. "Jack must have a Jill to match. And there are so many Jacks and Jills to every inferior man!"

NO TRADITIONAL "COUNTESS."

This Russian Countess, by the way, is quite the most different creature we could imagine from the stage's [illegible] with the phrase, blithe and dusky beauty leaving a trail of intrigue and villainy in five-act scorch for the [illegible] moments of state. But an old lady, [illegible] figure and style of dress of Queen Victoria. Moreover, there is no question about her title. Her first lecture will be given in Washington under the auspices of the Russian Embassy, as she has known the wife of the Russian Ambassador, Baron Rosen, for twenty years.

On her breast she wears a gold wreath which stamps her as an officer of Public Instruction under the French Government. She has lived in Paris for twenty-five years, and has written many books and plays.

"I am happier than any married woman I have ever known," the Countess continued. "Think how free I have come all by myself to this wonderful country—this country which says 'Forward' to all the world.

FRENCH DEBT TO AMERICA.

"French women owe everything they have achieved to the example of American sisters. Until last year a French married woman was entitled to her own wages. Her husband could claim them at any time, even though she was separated from him. Now the working woman is protected. We have women bill posters and women coachmen in Paris. I always have a woman to drive me when I can get one, for they know their way, and I am not afraid of being overturned. Besides, there is no question of chivalry involved. Women drivers will be given the right of way by men drivers, even though the men drivers do everything they can to make their tasks dangerous and unpleasant.

"I am not a suffragette," the Countess continued. "I don't believe women should make laws. They have nobler tasks.

"Yet you don't believe a woman artist should marry?"

"No, because women artists cannot be true to their husbands and their art at the same time. Take Adelina Patti, for instance. She was madly in love with her first husband, the Marquis de Caux. Yet, because she sang love duets night after night with Nicolini she ended by giving him her affections and deserting her husband for him.

"The same thing is true of nearly all actresses. Contact with other men than their husbands in the enforced intimacy of the stage engenders infatuation. And then, where is the home?

DUSE LIVES FOR ART ALONE.

"Eleanora Duse is an artist who lives for art alone. She cares for nothing else. She has no pleasures, no amusements. Her work is her life."

"How about D'Annunzio?" I questioned.

"She still loves him, poor woman. But she would not give him her life, for that belongs to her art.

"Every woman must love," the Countess continued. "It is her destiny, her curse. But it depends on circumstances whether she should marry.

"Marriage should be based on love alone. I know we have marriages of reason, of convenience, in France and Russia, but they bring inevitable unhappiness."

"And you have never loved, Madame?"

"I have never married," evasively answered the venerable Countess.

JERSEY WIFE WHO DECLARED SHE WOULD BE INDEPENDENT

NEW YORK.—Bravely concealing that "a broken heart" beat under the bodice of her stunning Directoire gown or that "a broken spirit" prevented her from blushing divinely, Mrs. Flora Howard Moyer appeared before Vice-Chancellor Howell in Newark and contested her husband's demand for the custody of their daughter.

The action was brought prior to a suit for absolute divorce filed by Albert Moyer, who has been living at the Engineers' Club, No 32 West Fortieth street, this city, since leaving his South Orange, New Jersey, residence on the occasion of his wife's reappearance after a trip to Europe. While in Paris she had written "I am going into business as an artist's model. I see your hands go up in holy horror."

HANDS WERE UP.

Moyer's hands, and those of his mother and sister, were still "up" when they entered Vice-Chancellor Howell's chambers yesterday. But Mrs. Moyer says she really didn't pose. True, she may have gone to the studio of W. Rudolph Kip, but what of that? Also, it befell that Mr. Kip took the same steamer on which she sailed for Europe. "Entirely a coincidence," says Mrs. Moyer.

The accusations made in the divorce papers are given by Moyer as grounds why his wife should not have the custody of their child, Margaret Moyer is 7. Her beautiful mother is —but that is irrelevant.

A court attendant who was ushering Mrs. Moyer and her daughter to chairs, said: "These are for you and your little sister."

THEN MRS. MOYER SMILED.

It was then that Mrs. Moyer smiled and blushed divinely. Moyer smiled just once during the two hours' ordeal. He was leaving the chambers with head erect and eyes to the front.

"Oh, Papa," wailed Margaret, disconsolately, "where's my kiss?"

Moyer halted, leaned over the chair, and Margaret clasped her arms around his neck. The sunshine reflected by the loving embrace and kiss dispelled all the shadows which had filled the room. Mrs. Moyer flushed and her eyes sought her husband, but there was no response. The outcome of the hearing depends much on little Margaret herself. Moyer's counsel, Judge Alfred F. Skinner, proposed to put the child on the stand. Vice-Chancellor Howell said he would talk with Margaret in private before announcing his decision on next Monday.

WIFE'S LETTER.

A letter attached to the bill of complaint in the divorce action, and which Moyer offered as proof that his wife should not have the custody of Margaret, reads:

"Lake Placid, N. Y., Aug. 30, 1905.

"My Dear Albert: Your love for me does not make up for any conduct you may choose to exhibit to the other person. That you are unjustly at least trying to curtail his liberty, to which every person has a right, is apparent. And that such action is an insult to your wife is plain to anyone and humiliating to me, and no one ever made me feel so without my full disgust and hatred, and you will be no exception. In the face of such acts I don't feel that I owe you anything, but I do feel that I owe myself something, and I will live and be free in spite of you.

"You know the Howard nature well enough to know that we love independence, and when that is taken away they don't usually give a damn for the rest, and so long as you take such action and force me and the other party we do not feel obligated at all, and I tell you quite frankly that if I ever get a chance to see him I shall do so. I am not anxious to join clubs, etc., but will probably go out some. A broken heart is not the best accompaniment to interest in other people. Add to that a crushed spirit and you will see that I do not want to meet people and put on a bright exterior at such a cost. FLORA."

Counsel explained that the "person" referred to in the letter is one of the co-respondents named by Moyer.

CO-RESPONDENTS OUT OF REACH.

Mrs. Moyer brought her daughter to court in response to a writ of habeas corpus. Her counsel, Sherred Depue, opposed surrendering the child, and denied all of the charges made against Mrs. Moyer by her husband. Mr. Depue said the demand for Margaret was made by Moyer on the same grounds on which he had brought suit for divorce, and that the issue was still unfried. He said that one of the co-respondents, William R. Jamison, described as a former fiance of Mrs. Moyer, was in Mexico, and the other, Artist Kip, was in California. He could neither get their affidavits nor those of other witnesses who were in France and out of the court's jurisdiction. He said he would rest his case and decline to place Mrs. Moyer on the stand.

Judge Skinner said he offered to the court the testimony of Mrs. Moyer's brother, Mr. Howard, who made an affidavit that he had seen his sister in Boston, where she was staying at the hotel where Kip had apartments. Howard, in his affidavit, said that Kip's attitude was that "of a fond lover." Howard returned to New York and told Moyer he would have attacked Kip were it not for the notoriety which would have resulted. Vice-Chancellor Howell told Lawyer Depue that he had come to court with empty hands, and it looked as if the case had taken upon it a confession of judgment but he would accept the petition and examine it carefully.

CHILD CLINGS TO MOTHER.

Mrs. Moyer came into court with her daughter, a fair-haired, blue-eyed child, who constantly nestled against her mother's shoulder. Mrs. Moyer is a brunette with violet eyes, such as artists describe as soulful. They flashed reproof on Judge Skinner, when he described her as "a vain, pleasure loving woman who left her home and her child, spending to Europe, Nassau, Bermuda and Cuba on one train of flirtations."

Moyer said his mother and sister attended Margaret during Mrs. Moyer's frequent absences from home and that they were still willing and anxious to look after the child. Mrs. Charles Moyer and Miss Elise Moyer, mother and sister, respectively, of the plaintiff, assured the court of their continued loving interest in Margaret's welfare.

TRIXIE FRIGANZA IS NOW A SUFFRAGETTE

NEW YORK.—Trixie Friganza got an idea last night. She sent it to a local newspaper in the form of an advertisement, thus:

"Votes for Women—All Suffragettes and women accustomed to public speeches are requested to send names to me in aid of a monster demonstration of women at the City Hall.

"MISS TRIXIE FRIGANZA."

"What does Miss Friganza hope to accomplish?" asked a reporter of Walter Kingsley, manager of the show in which she is appearing at the New York Theater.

"She's a bug, a woman's rights bug," explained Mr. Kingsley. "She's scrapping all the time for the rights of women, and she can scrap, too."

"Stella Hammerstein, the daughter of Oscar, is a bug, too. She's in the company, and, like her father, when an idea she pushes it for all she's worth. She and Miss Friganza are she gets for the rights of women all the time. They want women to vote, to get as much pay as men and have every right that a man has.

"We have nothing to do with demonstration. We can't line up with a game like that and we told Miss Friganza so tonight. But she's spending her own money and, of course, she can go as far as she likes.

"It's her scheme to get professional women those who are accustomed to confronting the public and who know how to make an effective speech, to go down to the City Hall in a body and put the cause of the suffragettes before the mayor and aldermen in a way that will make them sit up and take notice. But, remember, we have nothing to do with it; it's her own plan."

"I am thoroughly in earnest about this," said Miss Friganza, "and I am going to devote all my spare time and money battling for the equal rights of women at the polls. I think it is a shame that our sisters in England should be alone among English-speaking women in waging the unequal war. I am quite sure that our New York women, once they are aroused, will make even greater demonstrations."

HE CUT HIS BEARD FOR AMELIE RIVES

CHARLOTTESTOWN, Va.—John Armstrong Chanler told today the story of how he cut off his French beard because Amelie Rives had refused him. He also told of what he characterized as ill-bred conduct toward him by members of the Knickerbocker Club of New York, including Stanford White and Sculptor St. Gaudens. These recitals were given from the witness stand in Chanler's proceeding to legally establish his sanity and recover a fortune he alleges was wrested from him in New York.

DAN CUPID BLAMED FOR ARSON

CHICAGO. — "That man's disappointed love, after five years of unsuccessful attempt to get my hand, has just set him crazy. He swallowed carbolic acid because I jilted him and now, for revenge, he has burned the home of my mother and myself."

Miss Frieda Tramel, who, with her mother, Mrs. Theresa Tramel, lives at 5221 Campbell avenue, made the above statement before Municipal Judge Gemmell at the Harrison street court today when Hermann Bramer was arraigned on charges of larceny as bailee and arson. Bramer, charged with taking $70 from Mrs. Tramel and later burning her homestead, admitted the crimes, but told the court that he had burned the home at the instigation of Miss Tramel, denied that he had sued for her hand and said he had been paid for the crime. After the evidence had been heard the court held Bramer to the grand jury on both charges in bonds of $2500.

When arraigned in court Bramer said: "Yes, I stole the money from Mrs. Tramel and I went and gambled every cent of it down town. During last July Miss Tramel came to me and told me that the old house was in bad shape and said if I would set fire to it so she could obtain the insurance she would pay me $100. It looked good to me, so I bought some kerosene and went out there and set fire to a couch and then I skipped. I never cared for her, although I worked for her for a long time. That love story is a pipe dream. She fixed it up so that she would not get into trouble."

MAJORITY OF WOMEN IN FRANCE EARN THEIR OWN LIVING

The highest paid working women in France are said to be the cutters of precious stones. They receive about $1.80 a day. The lowest wage is 60 cents a day and is paid to dressmakers. There are 14,000,000 women in France and the majority earn their own living. The movement on foot to secure for them the ballot is carried on with the object of gaining for them a formal recognition in the industrial world in the hope of increasing their wages and winning for them equal pay for equal work with the men.

"JOKE" MARRIAGE PROVES A REALITY

SUNBURY, Pa. — As the result of a "joke" two young people find themselves man and wife, while both are engaged to be married to others.

At the wedding of Miss Sarah Musser and Joseph Crawford were present Miss Maude Eichelberger, daughter of a prominent Lewisberg hotel proprietor, and Arthur S. Orr, son of a Pennsylvania railroad official at Pittsburg. Orr and Miss Janet Houtz, of Philipsburg, during the festivities, planned what they thought it a big joke.

The couple went to the court house and took out a marriage license in the regular form. One giving his real name and Miss Houtz giving that of Matilda Smith.

Later the sensation came when Miss Eichelberger, to make the joke complete, they thought, agreed to go through the wedding ceremony with Orr, both firmly believing that, as an assumed name was used, the ceremony would not be binding. Accordingly, the ceremony was performed by Justice of the Peace Shipman, and now the couple have found that they are legally married.

PREACHER SEES NO EVIL IN THE SALOME DANCE

DENVER.—"There's about as broad-minded a preacher as I ever saw in my life," said W. De Lancey Rector of the Savoy hotel, indicating a tall gentleman who sat reading in the lobby.

"He is the Rev. Paul J. Heffner of Massachusetts. I was talking to him a while ago about theatricals and actors, and I found that he is very fond of the theater, is a close student of the drama and a lenient critic of some stage productions over which great howls have been made. The 'Salome' dance, for instance, he regards as all right—come over and I'll introduce you to him."

The newspaper man followed Mr. Rector and was introduced.

"I understand that you are a defender of the much-reviled 'Salome' dance," was the first proposition submitted.

"Defender? No, no, nothing of the kind. What I had to say to this gentleman," indicating Mr. Rector, "was merely called out by something in the conversation into which we had drifted. What I said was merely to the effect that I had seen the 'Salome' performance in New York and I found in it nothing in particular to condemn. Of course, the young woman's appare is not heavy, but it is soft and graceful as it hangs, or floats, in the course of the really artistic saltatory performance and, to my mind, it is not only beautiful, but instructive.

"In such fashion, the young maidens danced before Solomon and David, and it is not to be believed that these great men, both poets, both highly cultivated and refined, could have so debased themselves as to provide for themselves this beautiful entertainment for the gratification of sensual instincts and to the pure-minded the dance can only appeal to the artistic tastes. Of course, there may be differences in the way the different young women produce the dance, but the performance I saw was pleasing and in no way disgustingly suggestive."

THREE MONTHS A BRIDE WIDOWED AND HEIRESS

CHICAGO — Through the death of Charles E. Rollins, who was prosperous business man of Chicago and a member of many of the prominent clubs, Mrs. Rollins, who until her marriage to the decedent three months ago was Miss Lohna Austin, a nurse falls heir to a portion of his $500,000 estate.

Rollins died yesterday morning at the Sacred Heart Sanitarium in Milwaukee, where he had been for some time because of a weak heart. Prior to the marriage Mrs. Rollins had been caring for him in her professional capacity. Her devotion to his wife kindled the spark of love, and soon as he was stronger he asked her to stay with him and care for him as his wife. After their marriage the couple spent most of their time at Rolyin's farm in Wisconsin, until he was forced to go to Milwaukee for treatment.

Rollins leaves one son, Charles E. Rollins Jr., 1685 Sheridan road. Previous to the death of his first wife, which occurred about two years ago, Rollins had lived on the West Side, but since then had spent much of his time in Wisconsin, where he was extensively interested in real estate and in the colonization of Wisconsin and Northern Michigan. When in Chicago he stopped at the Metropole Hotel.

The decedent was publisher of the Argus, an insurance paper, and head of the Rollins Publishing Company. He was born in Holderness, N. H., in 1845, and came to Chicago in 1875, organizing the publishing company which bears his name. He was a member of the Odd Fellows, the National Union, the Illinois Club and the Illinois Athletic Club and was one of the original life members of the Press Club.

Before coming to Chicago Rollins had been engaged in the insurance business in the East, and when he came to Chicago purchased an insurance paper, which formed the basis of his publishing house. He also engaged in the insurance business to a certain extent, and his son now is in the same line with the firm of Rollins & Burdick.

The body will be brought to Chicago. It will be buried in Graceland.

Married Life Is an Art

Blame for Connubial Unhappiness Placed Equally Upon Husbands and Wives

CHICAGO.—"Social pests"—"denatured women" and "men who treat their home merely as a boarding house"—were blamed yesterday, instead of poor legislation, for matrimonial difficulties, divorces and the improper bringing up of children by Lyman Evans, lawyer, in an address to the Chicago Woman's Club.

"The Home and the State" was Mr. Evans' theme.

"I will not attempt to suggest improvements in legislation," Mr. Evans said. "This is not the most important angle of the question. The divorce evil, although the cause of much discussion as to ways it may be lessened, scarcely is what I would call the most important feature, either, of matrimonial troubles. In fact I consider it merely the outward symptom of a great disrespect for that highest art of all—home-building.

DIVIDED INTO CLASSES.

"This art, which should be the foremost object in the life of all, is neglected by those whom I would classify in two sections.

"First, the man whose entire attention is centered on his business interests—the man whose mind is forever in his office, watching the market, figuring the probabilities of his financial ventures, and whose eye is brightest when it is focused on his counting room. This is the type of man who treats his home merely as a boarding house, who spends no time except that which is absolutely necessary with his wife and children—neglecting his offspring and inculcating by example a neglect of home.

"The other class is composed of what I would call 'denatured women'—women who have neglected or forgotten their natural functions to such a degree that they will rush to any interest to get away from the home life. They play bridge without moderation and have even adopted the occupations of men—anything, in fact, to take them away from home.

"These two classes comprise all the troublesome element in this problem. They are social pests.

HOME PROPER FIELD.

"The homemaking duty is more honorable and difficult than the largest political situations. The politician is pursuing the lowest art. A mere gathering of four or five about his standard, his nomination and election and great power in the framing of laws to govern the country stand for naught compared to the work of the man and woman engaged in the homemakers' duty.

"The proper home influence requires more gray matter than is necessary to the man who can go into the battle and kill more than any other man. One requires the knowledge of the force of projectiles, the manipulation of forces, armament and other telling features in man's equipment, and the other the more subtle, delicate wisdom in the way of proper influence, making the home agreeable and properly rearing children.

"In flattering the vanity and egotism of those successful in political and business life we neglect to encourage the real things in life and worship the wrong idol."

The occasion of Mr. Evans' speech was a luncheon of the home department of the club. Following his address a general discussion of his subject was held.

WOMAN ALLOWED TO PRACTICE LAW

Miss Mabel Shurtevant has just been admitted to practice at the bar at Jefferson City, Mo. Her record as a student is remarkable. She was graduated as valedictorian from the high school. Later she won scholarships in Baker University and in Kansas City University and the curator's scholarship in the University of Missouri. Since enrolling in 1905 she has taken both the law and the academic course and will receive her degree next June.

Phone Girl Hears Distress Cries of Woman in Peril

PITTSBURG, Pa.—"Central, don't kill me! For God's sake don't kick me any more!"

Hilda Duss, a telephone girl, heard the shriek over the wires at 4 o'clock this morning at her switchboard. She distinctly heard a crash, a shriek, then the receiver was slapped down. She hunted up the source of the call, notified the central police station, and policemen were rushed to the saloon of A. S. Huslein, 530 Grant street.

There they found the scene of a brutal attack on Mrs. Minnie Huslein, the saloonkeeper, who was lying unconscious on the floor near the telephone, with her husband, A. S. Huslein, Jesse M. McGeary, formerly coroner of Allegheny county, and C. S. Stoloskasky in the saloon.

The woman had been kicked about the body and was hurried in a patrol wagon to the homeopathic hospital, where it was said that it is doubtful if her life could be saved.

Huslein was held at the police station, while McGeary, who is strong politically, was released on bail. It appears that Huslein, McGeary and Stoloskasky came home from a political meeting and began drinking at the bar of the saloon after the doors had been closed. Near morning Mrs. Huslein came down stairs and asked that the drinking be stopped, whereupon her husband attacked her. The woman managed to knock the receiver from the telephone and the wide awake central girl responded.

NO ONE INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT

ALAMEDA, Oct. 22.—William Higby and Fred White of the Park Garage have brought from Hayward the damaged auto of Superintendent of Schools Moore. The machine had the two wheels of the right side torn off while skidding into the gutter embankment as Moore, who was driving, took the outside of the road in an effort to avoid a collision with a wagon. The accident occurred near the junction of Seminary avenue and the county road. Moore had as his guests William Hammond Jr. of Alameda and Benjamin Heasrnd, Charles Wheeler and Alfred Oelrichs of San Francisco. The machine was not overturned, but dropped down when the wheels collapsed and piled the party up in confusion. No one was injured, but the damage to the auto is quite extensive.

INSURANCE RATING TO DEPEND ON HIS REPORT

ALAMEDA, Oct. 22.—Allen C. Wright, inspecting engineer for the Pacific Board of Underwriters of San Francisco, has been making an inspection of the fire dangers and fire fighting facilities of this city for a week past and has not as yet completed his work. Wright has visited all of the fire houses and made note of the apparatus and men stationed in each building and has gained a thorough working knowledge of their efficiency.

On the report that Wright will submit to the Pacific Board of Underwriters will depend to a great extent the risk rating that will be given to this city by the insurance companies and the rates that property owners will in the future be required to pay.

Rebekahs From Around the Bay Celebrate Twenty-Second Year of Lodge.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 22.—About 125 Rebekahs from the different lodges in cities around the bay gathered together last night in Odd Fellows' Hall to help Alameda lodge celebrate its twenty-second anniversary. There were thirty-five charter members when the lodge was instituted twenty-two years ago, and only five of that number are left. They are C. O. Johnson, Mrs. Lizzie Fletcher, Mrs. C. J. Hammond, Mrs. Anna Sherman, who was the first noble grand, and Mrs. Anna Fox. Each of these charter members was presented with a large bouquet of carnations.

Three of the charter members spoke on the growth of the lodge and the work it is doing. The program was composed of a piano solo by Miss Grace Thrane, a vocal solo by Mrs. George Hagy, a recitation by Miss Ruth Huff and a short farce by ten of the members.

An elaborate banquet followed the rendering of the program. After the banquet the evening was given up to dancing.

THIEVES CLIMB THROUGH WINDOW

In Absence of Family, Robbers Enter House and Take Various Articles

ALAMEDA, Oct. 22.—W. E. Greer of 1811 Encinal avenue has reported to the police that his residence was entered some time between 10 o'clock yesterday morning and 6 o'clock last night and that clothing and jewelry valued at $110 were stolen. The robbery was not discovered until last evening at 6 o'clock, when members of the Greer household, who had been absent from the dwelling during the greater part of yesterday, returned.

Among the articles that Greer reports as having been stolen were two suits of clothes, a dress suit case, a fancy vest, a Hoo-Hoo pin and several other small pieces of jewelry. It is supposed that the thief or thieves obtained access to the house by climbing through a window.

GRABS PURSE FROM GIRL IN BROAD DAYLIGHT

Frustrated Robber Jumps on Horse and Eludes Capture at Hands of Posse.

SAN LEANDRO, Oct. 22.—Frustrated in a bold attempt to get away with a purse which he had snatched in broad daylight from Miss Margaret Bradley of 204 East Sixteenth street, Oakland, an unidentified man jumped on a horse belonging to George Jorgensen yesterday and eluded capture at the hands of a posse of officers.

Miss Bradley was standing with her mother, Mrs. M. A. Bradley, near the corner of Saunders and Hayward avenues, waiting for an Oakland-bound car, when a man who had been sitting on a bench on the opposite side of the street crossed over and suddenly snatched her purse from her hand. Jorgensen's horse was tied to a post in front of the residence of Dr. G. H. Ohen, and the thief jumped on its back, but before he could untie the halter Miss Bradley rushed upon him and wrested the purse from him.

SCREAMS ATTRACT.

Jorgensen, who was having a tooth filled by Dr. Ohen, was attracted by the screams of the frightened woman, and rushed to the scene just in time to see his horse and the thief disappearing in a cloud of dust. Borrowing the doctor's bicycle, he sped after the miscreant. In the meantime Marshal Geisenhoffer was notified, but found no trace of the robber. Jorgensen followed the man for a number of miles before he finally caught up with him near San Lorenzo. The fellow dismounted and fled in the direction of the County Infirmary, and Jorgensen made no attempt to pursue him further, as the horse was bleeding from the nostrils from hard driving.

Both Mrs. Bradley and her daughter were in a nervous condition after the attempted robbery, and were compelled to remain in Dr. Ohen's care for some time before they could go to their home. Miss Bradley is of the opinion that the would-be robber was insane, as she says he laughed maniacally as he dashed madly down the street on the stolen horse.

SEEK BODY TO SECURE FORTUNE

WEALTH DEPENDS ON FINDING MAN'S REMAINS

Hundreds Begin Search of Desert for Corpse of Prospector Who Disappeared in Nevada in 1906.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 22.—Hundreds of men are about to take up the search for the body of Mervin W. Thompson, out on the great white desert of Lincoln County, Nevada. Thompson disappeared from Searchlight on August 12, 1906, and has not been heard from since. A fortune in the richest gold ore of the district depends upon the recovery of the remains.

Deputy Sheriff John Howe of Searchlight was in Los Angeles yesterday collecting information to be used in ferreting out the peculiar mystery.

Relatives of the man in Superior, Wisconsin, demand that the property be turned over to them. Thompson must be proven dead before this can be done. To prove that the prospector is dead, the desert men will search everyone of the thousands of abandoned shafts in the Tiger Wash and the Nippenos Peak districts to find the body.

DOZIER JOINS THE DEFENSE OF RUEF

Prominent Attorney to Assist—Judge Lawlor Objects to Questioning of Veniremen.

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—Attorney Thomas B. Dozier of Shasta county, who assisted in the defense of James Treadwell during the trial which resulted in the acquittal of the latter on a charge of embezzlement in connection with the $5.00, $5.00; F. Barmet $9.60, $35.55; failure of the California Safe Deposit and Trust Company, made his first appearance as associate counsel in the Ruef case this morning.

He occupied a seat next that of Attorney Ach and frequently offered suggestions and made objections to questions put by Attorney Heney.

John A. Hooper of 2201 Laguna street, a well known local lumber man, stated that he could not believe the testimony of the supervisors. He was being questioned at length by Attorney Ach when Judge Lawlor stopped the examination and requested Heney to proceed with the cross-questioning. During the examination conducted by the prosecutor both Attorneys Ach and Dozier assigned almost every question put to the juror as misconduct on the part of the District Attorney, and Judge Lawlor was influenced frequently to sustain their objections.

Hooper was at length excused by the court, after a challenge by Attorney Heney, and Fred T. Huddart, an iron and steel merchant of 2123 Pierce street, was called.

PREPARING FOR TUNNEL.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 22.—Crews of surveyors are at work again between Cisco and Truckee, preparing the way for contractors, who will next spring begin boring the Southern Pacific's proposed seven-mile tunnel under the Sierra between those points. One camp has been established near Cisco and another at Donner Lake. The Utah Construction Company has the contract for the work and will put large gangs of men on as soon as they can be used.

VERDICT OF ATTEMPTED SUICIDE RENDERED

BERKELEY, Oct. 22.—Justice of the Peace J. C. Quinn conducted the inquest last night in the case of Miss Ethel Buttimer, the young nurse who hanged herself at the Roosevelt Hospital last Saturday and whose suicide was withheld by Deputy Coroner Jameson until Monday afternoon.

Testimony was offered by Miss Katherine Parker and Miss Elizabeth Moore, companions of Miss Buttimer at the Roosevelt.

Mrs. Elizabeth Whitton, an aunt of the deceased, testified that she knew no cause for the girl's act in taking her own life. Testimony was offered by her companions, however, and in the forms of letters, indicating that she was despondent over a love affair, and it is supposed that Will Eighmie of Napa is the "Will" referred to in the letters. A verdict of death by hanging with intent to commit suicide was rendered by the jury.

YOUNG LINEMAN KILLED.

STOCKTON, Oct. 22.—Lee Camlin, a wireman engaged on a power line near Manteca, this county, came in contact with a live wire at noon today and was instantly killed. Deceased was 18 years of age.

SYRACUSE, Oct. 22.—John W. Kern today abandoned his campaign in this city and left for home in response to a message from his wife telling of the serious illness of their son. He was to have spoken in Cooper Union.

COURT CAUTIONS JURY IN TRIAL OF MRS. MARTIN

Suspicion of jury tampering in the trial of Mrs. Isabella J. Martin, charged with an attempt to dynamite the home of Superior Judge Ogden, was voiced last evening by Assistant District Attorney W. H. L. Hynes. Just before the Court ordered an adjournment Hynes requested Judge Wells to admonish the jurors not to heed any observations upon the aspects of the case which they might overhear and to warn the spectators to refrain from commenting on the evidence in the hearing of members of the jury.

Hynes explained that his request was based upon suspicion and a number of "other things." Attorney A. L. Frick took exception to Hynes's request, declaring that it reflected upon the defense and a heated argument followed. Judge Wells granted Hynes's request.

GIRL IS VICTIM OF A NEWS SCANDAL

Because Telephone Operator Knew of Nurse's Suicide She Said She Was Discharged.

BERKELEY, Oct. 22.—Angry over the defeat of efforts to suppress all news of the suicide of Miss Ethel I. Buttimer, the nurse from St. Helena, who hanged herself in a bathroom in Roosevelt Hospital in Berkeley on Saturday afternoon, Louis F. Shingle, the hospital manager, has criticised Miss Freda Bennings, a telephone operator, and had her dismissed from the services of the company temporarily.

Deputy Coroner Jameson declares that he is not directly involved in this scandal and shifts all the blame upon the shoulders of Shingle.

WANTED NEWS SUPPRESSED.

"I wanted no news, if possible, of Miss Buttimer's suicide to get to the public," says Shingle. "I was very angry when I believed that there had been a leak in the telephone office. I pay $25 a month for secrecy and I want my money's worth."

Miss Bennings owes her misfortune to her apprehension for the safety of her brother, Louis Bennings, a patient at the Roosevelt Hospital. She heard that something "dreadful" had happened at the Roosevelt Hospital and, leaving the telephone office, rushed to the hospital. There one of the nurses told her of Miss Buttimer's suicide. A moment later she says Shingle entered the room and accused her of reading his messages over the telephone wires. She denied the charge.

WHAT RECORDS SHOW.

"Shingle then said I was a liar and threatened to have me discharged," said Miss Bennings. "He told me he would report me to Manager White and he did. That was on Saturday afternoon. Sunday, when I went to see my brother at the hospital I told Mr. Shingle if he would report me, I would in turn tell the police what I knew. He was very angry, told me I was a fool and that the police already knew all about it."

According to the police records the incident was not reported until twenty-four hours after Miss Bennings had been threatened by Shingle. Monday morning she was discharged, she says.

Chief of Police Vollmer will consult with District Attorney Donahue to ascertain what culpability rests with Deputy Coroner Jameson for his attempt to suppress and distort the public records of his office.

BEATEN BY CRUEL THUG

MAN AND HIS SISTER SEVERELY INJURED

Screams of Victims Frighten Assailants and Highwaymen Flee Without Attempting to Rob Persons They Held Up.

Exhibiting ugly bruises and lacerations of the nose, face and scalp, M. Brand, formerly in the employ of the city street department and son of an inventor and manufacturer of a patent ladder, appeared at police headquarters and his sister had been the victims of footpads Monday night at Ninth and West streets, while on their way from the Sixteenth street station to their home in West Oakland.

Brand alleges that he was walking along talking with his sister and had just reached the corner in front of a church at Ninth and West street when two men jumped from their hiding place in the shadows of the building and, without warning, made a concerted attack upon him and his sister.

STRUCK WOMAN.

One of the men struck Brand a vicious blow in the face, while the other thug turned his attentions to Brand's sister, striking her in the face with his clenched fist.

Before the footpads could have time to search their intended victims for valuables, the screams of the frightened woman, and the struggles of Brand with his assailant, aroused the neighborhood and the highwaymen took to their heels as residents in that section of the city started to the assistance of the couple. Owing to the suddenness of the attack and the further fact that Brand was somewhat confused by the blows which landed on his face, he was unable to get but a meager description of the thugs.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Oct. 22.—The condition of Colonel W. F. Tucker, U. S. A., who is a patient at the Army and Navy Hospital here, continues to improve and it is believed his ultimate recovery is practically assured.

---The story of a courtesy, a compliment and a customer.

Thursday Evening, October 22, 1908.

They all three came in one day.

A half-frightened little woman asked one of our tellers a question—she received a courteous answer; she was made to feel that we were honestly anxious to help her in her perplexity. She wanted to send some money to New York and didn't know how to send it safely.

After we had explained it all to her and helped her all we could she paid us a very sincere compliment. She said "This is the first time I ever received such courteous treatment in a bank. I have been dreading to go to banks for years, but you have made it a real pleasure for me."

Then she told us of $2000 she wanted to deposit, and later on she brought it in, and from that one courteous answer we received a very substantial account.

We believe courtesy pays.

And we insist upon it. We want our customers to anticipate with pleasure every visit they make to the Central Bank, and no matter whether their account amounts to $1.00 or $100,000, they'll be made to feel welcome and treated politely.

THOMPSON A BETTER HITTER IS CLAIM OF NEW MANAGER

Farmer Pugilist Is Improving in Blocking and Will Show Better Than Ever Before; West End Card.

BY EDDIE SMITH.

ACCORDING to the latest methods of boosting Manager Larney Lichtenstein called at this office yesterday with the latest news from the Cyclone Johnnie Thompson camp and left the information that the Sycamore farmer is a much improved fighter. When informed that Unholz had insisted that he was given the hooks in the contest at Ogden and that he had proofs of the papers from that city relating the details of the former contest and that they gave him the better of the deal he simply raised an every ready eyebrow as an indication of surprise or indifference and replied: "When the contest of the 29th is over then we shall see who was at fault. We are willin to wait until then and we are also willing to let the Public decide by that contest who is in the wrong."

When asked about the improvement that he was claiming for the farmer pugilist and if he was trying to have the impression go abroad that Thompson was becoming a clever boxer at this late day he most positively stated that he had not tried to make the Cyclone clever.

CYCLONE NOT CLEVER

"I realize what it would mean to try to make this fighter even ordinarily clever," he said. "It would simply spoil him for all time as past experience has taught us that after a fighter is in the game as long as Thompson has been it does not pay to try the changing of style. I have made his blocking better however and he is hitting cleaner and harder than ever before. The improvement that I speak of is simply an improvement of the old style and not anything new."

This is welcome news for we had some doubt as to how the Cyclone would behave in the ring if some one had been trying to show him how to be clever. The managers of Thompson and Unholz met last evening at the Hague and posted their forfeits with John T. Clark and now Manager Lerkart has nothing to bother him but the handling of a large crowd for at the popular prices that he is offering the double main event the Coliseum should be well filled.

ABOUT ATTELL FIGHT

Considerable talk has been going the rounds of San Francisco for the past few days regarding a twenty five round match between Abe Attell and Jim Driscoll at the Mission street arena on Thanksgiving day. There are many reasons to suppose that the contest will not be held chief among them being the lack of time in which to get the men on the ground and properly advertise the affair. This could be done but it would be a rush. Jack Gleason on the other hand has already laid claim to the Thanksgiving date and unless he finally concludes to stage the Reichel Papke contest on the eve of turkey day Coffroth would not offer an opposition fight.

If, however, Gleason sticks to the evening date then give us the Driscoll-Attell contest by all means. If it can be arranged, at a weight that will not send the Britisher into the ring in a condition unfit to battle for the title. Driscoll is the best of the English fighters and with Owen Moran divides the honor of being called the champion of England. He is a trifle heavy for the American featherweight limit though and would find it mighty hard work making anything less than 126 pounds in this country.

HIGH, BLUE LIMIT

Attell has been sitting in at the poker games in San Francisco in which the sky has been the limit and Dame Rumor has it that the little champion will soon have to make a run to replenish the funds that are gradually slipping away from him. Abe has been offered matches at Los Angeles and may be matched there in the near future with either Freddie Welsh or Ad Wolgast. Abe wants Welsh to make 126 pounds at 8 o'clock however and this may prove a block to that match as Welsh will hesitate to reduce to that figure for such a fighter as Attell.

CROSS IS DOUBLED

Packey McFarland must have made a show of Leach Cross in New York last night for according to the dispatches the only time that the New Yorker made even a showing was in the fifth round of a six round contest. Cross had been touted from New York as the coming champion and they thought a good deal of his chance with any lightweight in the world prior to last night and the showing up that McFarland gave him must have proven a great disappointment to many of the fans.

Packey is outgrowing the lightweight limit however and if he is not given a match with Battling Nelson in the near future his increasing weight will keep him out of the running. In the contest of last night Packey evidently showed the same dash and hitting power that he did while on the coast and in his fight with Jimmy Britt. From the very jump he took the lead and punished Cross with rights and lefts until that fighter was compelled to cover up and the much talked of dash with which Cross has won so many of the contests he has had during the past year was only a flash in the pan in the fifth round.

WEST OAKLAND SHOW

The West Oakland Athletic Club will hold their show for this month tomorrow night and for the occasion Tommy Simpson has signed the banner card of the club's existence. The six round events make up what he has sent it to call an all star list of events and among them are to be found some of the best men to be found in the short distance game.

The main event of the card is the contest between Toby Irwin and Arthur Allen. Toby has trained faithfully for the contest and has high hopes of beating the Springfield fighter with a clean knock out and in this manner redeem himself for the showing he made with Fred Ward. Allen has promised the management that he will be found to be a very different sort of a fighter than he was in the contest with Fred Ward and that he will tear right into Irwin and try to win instead of making the other fellow do all the leading. Irwin is not as rough as Ward and it is just possible that Allen will be the aggressor as both he and his manager believe that he is the stronger of the two.

Abe Label who beat Young Turner so nicely last month will take a chance at his old rival Kid Bell in the special event. Jimmy Reagan and Eddie Meany will clash at one another in a six round contest and Joe Dougherty vs. Frank Burgess and Charles Lucas vs. Tommy Deakin will make up the list of six round bouts.

CAPTAIN P. B. SHEEHAN

A good example of the sturdy plucky spirit of the St. Mary's College athletes was shown yesterday when Captain Paul Sheehan of the St. Mary's Rugby team led his battered light team against the heavy blue and gold varsity. Sheehan who plays a good game of forward lead his team at every stage of the game. Sheehan stands six feet and one inch and weighs about 176 pounds. He is a senior in college and has been playing for four years. He lives in San Francisco.

It was the Beavers' turn to snatch a victory yesterday and they did it with little ceremony over at Valencia Park by a score of 4 to 1. The Oaks took ten flights to empty nests at the suggestion of Bobby Groom the Webfoot pitcher who played most of the how himself yesterday. For Groom has the gold band on Miss Victory and he repeats the wedding ceremony every time he gets the chance. The nuptials yesterday were not impressive, but were effective.

Van Haltren put a team that is put them tandem in the box but it would have taken a unicorn to drag the Oakland chariot in first. The lead horse was Loucks, an uncertain quantity who is having a rather hard time to win his games. Deacon William Wright was hitched on to the wheel then and trotted along the rest of the game without casting a shoe until the final when he twisted his good luck sign by allowing a farewell drink for the Beavers at the score board.

Oakland made the lone run in the fifth, when Trusty Vin got a Texan to center and Truesdale was given a bid to first. McCoy responded to the situation by making a neat sacrifice. Heine grounded to short but in the melee Van scored. After that the game swashed along rapidly with Oakland three laps behind.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 22.—Playing errorless baseball behind the masterful pitching of Francois Hosp, Los Angeles defeated the San Francisco team by a score of 4 to 2 yesterday. The Dillonites scored two runs on three hits in the first inning. Hosp pitched superb ball for the first five innings. Blue and Gold Play Twice on Saturday

Two games scheduled for California Field Saturday will to a large extent decide the personnel of the California varsity which will line up in the annual game against Stanford. The two games will be played Saturday with the Olympic Club fifteen and the Barbarian team both of San Francisco.

At 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon the Olympic Rugby team will start the game against the second team of the blue and gold to be followed by the Barbarian varsity game at 3:30 o'clock. The latter game is regularly scheduled as being the second of a series. The game between the Olympics and second team will be the postponed game to have been played yesterday afternoon instead of the St. Mary's game.

Coach Taylor considers the club players a strong aggregation and one which will thoroughly test the strength of the candidates for the varsity.

The Olympic Club team and the Barbarians are dated to meet on California field on Thanksgiving day for the club championship, the appearance of the two fifteens on the college field on the same day should have a good attraction as both aggregations have a large following among the students who are interested in the city teams.

The Olympic team will be minus Webster and Cavanagh who are still laid up from the Nevada game but the back field will be able to put up a good showing with Snedgar, Kerrigan, Miller. The forwards will include the old guard, Molino, Brennan, Minturn, Thorpe, Hilen, Aguirre and Bromley with Edgar Murray at wing forward.

The Barbarians are figuring on putting the best team of the season in the field against the varsity and are determined to repeat their victory of two weeks ago when they bested the blue and gold 11 to 0.

Cardinal Rugby Team Leaves for Reno Game

Several hundred students were at the depot today to see the Santa Clara rugby squad accompanied by Coach Presley Maning, Stewart and Trainer Moulton start for Reno, Nev., where they will play the University of Nevada team tomorrow in the first of a series of two games.

The men who will make the trip are: Captain Crawford, Higley, Keeler, Mellor, Pemberton, Elliott, Heinly, Holman, Roth, Farrell, Chedic, Cool, Gallong, Jordan, Mitchell, Reynolds, Drew, Lyons, Brown and Lisle.

A short practice scrimmage was held yesterday afternoon, the second team going down to defeat under six tries. No goals were attempted in order to save time. The varsity was not in good form and its play was ragged most of the time although it showed a slight improvement in the second period. Cid Wallace sustained a severe wrench of his left knee and was carried off the field. This injury will prevent him from taking the trip and Scott who was hurt some time ago will also be forced to stay at home.

Will Mix at Redding

REDDING, Oct. 22.—The Mount Shasta Athletic Club yesterday afternoon signed up a contract between Jockey Bennett and Eddie Casey, who they are to box twenty rounds in Redding on Friday evening, November 13. Frank Gill Did Not Make Fair Play Sulk

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The stewards of the Jockey Club in their report of their investigation of the Autumn Weight for Age race that August Belmont II. has all not been interfered with by J. E. McInnis, Frank Gill.

Frank Gill was added star in the race in which Lady Fly won the favorite but was beaten by Mr. Robert and after the race Mr. Pelton asked Mr. McInnis why he had entered Frank Gill. McInnis stated that the time that he thought his entry had a chance for second money but Belmont intimated that the owner was not to go home and stated that Frank Gill's running had interfered with Fair Play causing him to sulk.

Clever Cue Artists to Enter Tourney

A handicap three cushion tourney of more than usual interest is planned to start next Friday night at the Oakland billiard parlor. The classiest bunch of three cushionists ever got together in Oakland will compete and their handicaps have been judged by four judges thoroughly acquainted with the abilities of the pretty players, the entries and their handicaps are as follows: Palmer 15, Oaks 7; Schlie 4, Buchman 31; Parker 31, Park 11. This will in ure an exciting contest and should the contestants live up to training for it will play hard.

The opening game will be between Baker and Park Monday night, Squires and Kiler will open and the announcement of other games will be made later.

High School Romps Over College Team

The real strength of the Oakland High school team was shown yesterday when the school made another step towards gaining the academic championship by defeating California College 24 to 0. Captain Pangs at quarter impressed all the subs during the game to spare the veterans for later games but the finest athletes whipped the college men off their feet by speed. Captain Bangs at right, McGrath at guard and Peterson at full did spectacular work for the High school while the college team fell upon Knicks hocker for sensational plays. Peterson's great strength be him toe line was brought into relief when his line buck evolved into a forty five yard run.

The Oakland High school team now seems to have the best chance for the academic pennant as the unusual strength developed during the past week or two has been the surprise of the league. But two more games remain to be played by the High school team one with Alameda High and one with Oakland Polytechnic High the first on October 8 and the second three days later.

The standing of the teams at the present time is as follows:

School	Played	Won	Lost	Pct
Oak. High School	2	2	0	1000
Ala. High School	1	1	0	1000
West High School	2	1	1	500

VARSITY HAS NO TROUBLE WITH LIGHT COLLEGE TEAM

Blue and gold gridiron athletes had little trouble in disposing of the second fifteen of lads from St. Mary's yesterday, running up a score of 32 to 0 in the two twenty minute halves. It was the first time the college boys ever tested their strength with a varsity team with the consequent lightness in the practice game just what their stubborn defense and aggressive offense stamps them as a clean game team. They were of their class yesterday and though outlined to average 150 pounds and the 165 pounds of the varsity they hopelessly outweighed.

The varsity team is not heavy now but the men are speedy and a deceptive cleverness in dodging and passing the ball that disconcerted fighter team. The blue and gold line up contained four men from the Olympian team Elliott, Watts, Harris, Evans all of whom showed up well and will make a hard stand for a permanent place on the team.

Nearly the entire varsity line was played in the second half with the score 13 to 0. This was done to give all squad men time in a game fight.

The first try was scored by Schlein less than a minute after Captain Butler had kicked off the ball being carried 30 yards from a blocked kick. Butler failed to kick goal. A few minutes later Cerf secured the ball on a throw in from the five yard line and went over for a try. Butler kicking goal. Sorenson slipped over from a scrum.

One of the prettiest plays of the game was Dwiggins' try when he got the ball on the 25 yard line, punted it over the heads of the college boys and caught it just before he went over the line.

Sheehan and Dimond for the college team were consistent players and Hughes, the star fullback was responsible for much of the team's strength. Captain Butler, Dwiggins at half, Watts at center and Cerf were the stars of the game, making long inroads on the St. Mary's defense.

The line up for the game was:

California: Bannicott, forward; Farmer, forward; Rudlemin, forward; Mitchell, forward; Pauly, forward; Ashley, forward; Sorenson, forward; substitutes: C. Phlegel, forward; Fairbanks, forward; Schutte, and Glass, wing forward; Dwiggins, half; Elliott, five-eighths; Cerf, five eighths; Webster, five-eighths; Watts, three-quarters; Evans, three quarters; Harris, three-quarters; Johns, three quarters; Solinsky, three-quarters; Butler, full.

St. Mary's: Rogers, forward; Kelly, forward; Smith, forward; Vicchao, forward; Sheehan, forward; Sheey, forward; Bell, forward; substitutes: Pentosky, forward; Arrota, forward; Walker, wing forward; Olavola, half; Grundell, five-eighths; Dunn, three quarters; O'Neil, three quarters; Sterlet, three-quarters; Dickson, three-quarters; Riordan, full.

AMATEUR NOTES

The manager of the Academics wants to state that his team has not entered the Examiner league. Furthermore the team known as St. Joseph's Academy is not the real team of the Academy, is a team playing under false pretenses and assuming its name. This team plays on St. Mary's diamond and has its uniforms while our team the Academy plays only on its own diamond at Polo Park, West Berkeley, Cal.

The Academic of St. Joseph's Academy of Point Park, Berkeley won two games Sunday from the J. T. Morans of Oakland. The first game was full of features. It was very exciting and progressive from beginning to end. At the end of the seventh inning the score was 1 to 1. The Academics then came through with a few runs. Waltos started with a single followed by Ortman with a two bagger. Then Henricks knocked the ball over the left fielders head making a clean home run and adding three runs to the Academics credit. This started the students of the academy going on megaphones. Cheered on by his mates, Cunningham, captain of the Academics got a single. A earn followed his good example. Two neat sacrifices and a walk brought both men in making the score 6 to 1, which remained same till the end of the game. Stopping the Academics left fielder got a chance and captured em all. He is born player and one of the most prominent of the few hundred visitors who were present on the campus. Hour the Academics shortstop played his place perfectly and was the best hitter on the field getting one home run, two base hits and two singles. At the ending of the ninth the J. T. Morans got a few single and filled the bases and Vaughen their best hitter was at bat. There was one out then. He knocked a pop fly to short. The next man hit the very same. The game ended in favor of the Acad mic 6 to 1.

The second game resulted in another victory for the Academics. The score was 14 to 1. The J. T. Morans were in the air. Fly ers were wild, throwing and errors seemed to fly their way. The little Academics only half the size of their opponents played nearly perfect ball all through, he game. Cunningham and Henricks pitched for the Academics and Noble, Wilhausen and Lidell pitched for the J. T. Morans. The Academics made the J. T. Morans were slated to play a series of five games. The Academics won the first three and the second game.

FAMOUS VENETIAN BAND TO APPEAR

GENNARO, At The Orpheum.

Gennaro, "The Eccentric," Will Lead Novel Orangization at Orpheum.

The Orpheum has imported another big vaudeville act, Gennaro's famous Venetian Gondolier Band. Gennaro is called the "Eccentric," rivaling Creatore and other famous bandsmen in the matter of extraordinary effects, gained through seemingly eccentric ways of directing his men.

The big Venetian Gondolier Band is to open at the Oakland Orpheum next Sunday afternoon. When the curtain goes up on Conductor Gennaro's performance those in the audience will be treated to a unique spectacle. The stage will be set to represen a scene in Venice. Gondoliers will glide by, and troubadours will sing; there will be sweet strains of music, and throughout an atmosphere of picturesque Venice will be revealed. Then will appear Gennaro himself, with his big band of thirty artists. He will play classical and popular music and play it in a manner that is likely to prove a revelation to those who have heard even the greatest bandsmen in this country.

Theresa Renz, with her wonderful trained horses, is to be a notable feature of the show next week. Many other new vaudeville acts are to be on the bill, including two or three of the best acts from this week's, such as the Cadets de Gascogne, "Silvers," the famous clown, Belle Hathaway's Simian Playmates and others.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—There was an active demand for stocks at the opening today, which carried prices over last night's level with but few exceptions. Speculation became irregular. Heavy realizing in Union Pacific and Northern Pacific, counterbalanced the improvement in Reading and the Eastern trunk lines. Business was in large volume, but the uncertainin movement o prices restricted buying after a while and the tone became heavy and dull. New York Central, Reading, Smelting and Great Northern, Oregon certificates advanced 1 1, Pennsylvania 1¼, Wisconsin Central preferred 2½ and New York, Chicago and St. Louis 4½. Northern Pacific fell a point under yesterday's closing and Union Pacific a fraction.

The market closed steady. Prices receded to the lowest and then rallied somewhat under the influence of a 2-point rise in Amalgamated Copper. American Woolen gained 2½ and Sloss-Sheffield 2⅝. Baltimore and Ohio, Delaware and Hudson and Roc Island lost 1.

Most of the forenoon losses were made up, but when Union Pacific touched 170 again selling was renewed.

The depression became more marked again, St. Paul and Reading receding a point and some other stocks returning to their lowest. Minneapolis and St. Louis lost 1⅜.

The selling to take profits made considerable impression.

Bonds were irregular.

BOARD OF EDUCATION TRANSACTS BUSINESS

Under a resolution passed by the Board of Education last evening, the Sunset telephone system will be abandoned for use in the public schools and the Home Telephone Company's system installed in its place.

The Home Company, under the contract entered into by the board last evening, agrees to maintain twenty-four lines at a monthly cost of $44.76. With this there will be a private exchange maintained, but installed at the company's office and under it there will be no connection with other subscribers, a plan that has been in operation for some time to keep the schools free from public interruption, which would result if the schools were open to all subscribers.

The school board has heretofore paid the Sunset Company $52 for twenty-one lines, but when the matter of competition entered into the calculations of the board, the Sunset offered to install twenty-four lines, but at the same price of $52.

Following the resignation of C. Bronchord as janitor of the Prescott school, R. J. Radcliff was elected to fill the vacancy.

At the conclusion of its session the board adjourned until next Wednesday evening when it is expected that the report of the grand jury on the school buildings, which had been condemned or declared in need of strengthening, would be forthcoming and final action taken on it.

MANY FINE PAINTINGS FOR THE ART EXHIBIT

Already about twenty-five valuable paintings have been received by Librarian Green for the art exhibit which will open at

500 DIE IN TERRIFIC TYPHOON

THRILLING RESCUES MADE NEAR MANILA

American Soldiers Do Great Work When Fishing Village Is Wrecked in Fierce Storb---Narrow Escapes.

MANILA Oct 22 --Additional details of the damage wrought in the Cagayan valley by the typhoon of October 18 indicate that loss of life in the district will reach 500 At Aparri where a thrilling rescue of a hundred natives was effected through the heroism of Lieutenant Robert Clark, Lieutenant Tredway and Postmaster Foss the survivors say that three hundred residents of the submerged fishing village which is located some distance below Aparri were swept away and drowned

The three Americans aided by one Filipino volunteer, were informed of the danger that threatened the village and managed to reach it by boat Approaching the shore in a series of short rushes between breakers that threatened at any moment to swamp their frail craft the rescuers found scores of natives clinging to the poles of their wrecked habitations

FOUGHT THEIR WAY

Lieutenants Clark and Tredway, carrying lines from the boat fought their way through the breakers and swimming from house to house in the flood-water, saved the lives of about one hundred men, women and children So thorough was their work that all but six of those living, when the boat reached the village, were saved The half dozen unfortunates in question were swept away by the force of the water while the Americans were striving to reach them Over fifty bodies were recovered in this locality

TOWN DESTROYED.

Bankers' Glasses

Our Kryptok glasses find great favor with bankers, and with good reason

With Kryptoks a banker can see clearly round the directors' room or the bank chamber, and at the same time and in the same pair read his letters, examine his accounts and make careful scrutiny of finely engraved bank notes

He may be 50 or 60 or older yet—it is all the same to the Kryptok. One pair suffices for far and near work.
